

Where rescue teams probe Sunshine Mine

Smoke leak delays mine rescue teams

KELLOGG, Idaho (UPI)—Smoke and carbon monoxide leaking through emergency bulkheads today delayed efforts to reach 50 miners trapped or dead a mile beneath the surface of the Sunshine silver mine.

At least 32 miners are known to have died in the fire that broke out three days ago in the nation's largest silver mine.

Mine officials, who had been expecting all night to announce that the lower reaches of the smoke-filled No. 10 shaft had been reached, said smoke and carbon monoxide leaking through emergency bulkheads had delayed the attempt again.

But they still held out hope that the 50 miners trapped at the 5,000-foot level of No. 10 were alive.

"Air is being drawn into the area," said Marvin C. Chase, general manager of the Sunshine Mining Co. "If anybody is near the air, they could fast a long time until we could get to them."

"We all hate to see the time go by, but they still have fresh air and water. There's a chance as long as they don't get up in smoke-filled areas," Chase said.

The fire broke out at mid-day Tuesday at the 3,000 to 4,000 foot level of the mine. Of the 190 men working underground, 108 got out alive. Five bodies were found Tuesday, 19 Wednesday and eight more Thursday.

The fire was still burning somewhere in the depths of the mine as rescue workers concentrated their efforts on getting the trapped miners out.

Rescue efforts were hampered early today when a bulkhead sealing off the shaft's hoist room from smoke-filled tunnels sprung a leak. Some crews were evacuated until the bulkhead could be sealed and fresh air pumped in again.

Officials had hoped to announce early today that the rescue teams had reached the bottom levels where the men were trapped last Tuesday, but by 11 a.m. EDT rescuers had failed to reach the trapped men.

About 40 wives and mothers maintained their grim vigil at the mine entrance.

The double lift hoist, a motorized cage that carries miners in and out of shafts, is the only escape route open to the trapped men.

Once the hoist begins operating, it can reach the lower levels in 60 seconds and carry 18 men in each of two cages. "It doesn't look too good," said rescue worker Eugene Baker, who had been with the crews for 15 hours. "But I've got a lot of friends down there and we're not giving up."

Officials said the men could survive if they reached fresh air pockets where they could tap into emergency air and water. However, a mine safety officer said the men may have followed fire procedures that call for moving to another level when smoke is noticed. In that case, the carbon monoxide and smoke could have overcome them.

Eight bodies were found in the No. 10 hoist room Thursday when rescuers finally reached there from both the Jewell Shaft of Sunshine and from a shaft bored through from the adjoining Silver Summit Mine. Twenty-four other victims were recovered Tuesday and Wednesday.

There was no warning Tuesday when 190 miners smelled smoke from a fire that broke out in old timbers somewhere deep inside the 100 miles of chambers and passageways of the 88-year-old mine, the nation's largest producer of silver.

Leonard Bougard, 35, was one of the 108 that made it to safety on a hoist while others sought fresh air pockets.

"The others never made it out," he said. "If they could have kept operators on those hoists, everybody might have made it."

While the rescue operation continued between 100 and 150 wives and relatives of the miners waited silently above ground for news.

One miner who escaped, Del Kitchen, said his father and brother were among those trapped

New US weapons given Viet units

SAIGON (UPI)—The United States today introduced new helicopter-borne guided missiles for use against Communist tanks in South Vietnam and sent a team of five generals and admirals into the field to see what other sophisticated new weapons could be used to turn back the Hanoi offensive. North Vietnam used more than 100 tanks to crush government defenses at Quang Tri and lesser numbers in the Central Highlands in the threat to Kontum Province where the Communists have been trying to slice South Vietnam in two.

The Communists were reported regrouping and reinforcing for an assault on Hue, the old capital of the Annamite kings, but military sources have said they did not expect the major assault to begin for a week. In the meantime there was heavy air action around Hue.

B-52s carried out a series of raids in the Quang Tri staging area and South Vietnamese A-1 jets reported killing 115 North Vietnamese and destroying 16 tanks, four 130mm cannon and four anti-aircraft guns about 20 miles north of Hue.

Communist forces struck within five miles of Hue Thursday night, hitting two South Vietnamese bases with rockets and mortars. Four rockets hit Camp Eagle, five miles south of Hue, damaging one building at the base which is headquarters for the 1st Infantry Division. About 100 rounds of mortar and rocket fire hit Artillery Base King, 10 miles west of Hue.

A parade permit was issued by city police for the parade slated to begin at 3 p.m. today.

Police said march leaders had agreed to hold an orderly march.

A man, apparently middle-aged, called the Times-News early today, warning the marchers to abandon their plans.

"Call the police and tell them they better call off that peace march because we've got three hand grenades we're gonna throw," the caller

The call was recorded by the Times-News.

TF peace hike draws threat

TWIN FALLS Despite a threat that hand grenades would be thrown at marchers, a peace march planned here today was expected to take place without trouble.

Assistant Twin Falls Police Chief Roy Lindell said patrol cars will be available from the city police, sheriff's office and state police departments.

The officers will escort marchers on their route from the Twin Falls City Park to the intersection of Main Avenue and Shoshone Street, to Fourth Street North and Main Avenue, and a return to the park.

Lindell said one car would lead the marchers and another probably would follow the group to prevent stragglers.

Trustee vote for TF today

TWIN FALLS A heavy turnout of voters is expected today for the Twin Falls School District 411 trustee election.

Eleven candidates are running for the five positions. The polls are open from noon to 8 p.m. at Bickel Elementary School, zone 1; Lincoln School, zone 2; Harrison School, zone 3; Twin Falls High School, zone 4; and Morningside Elementary School, zone 5.

Anyone 18 years of age or older who has resided in Idaho for six months and in the school district for 30 days and is a qualified elector may vote in the election. Residents may vote only for one candidate in the zone in which they reside.

Candidates for zone 1 are Frank DeLuca, former board member, Kenneth L. Hodge, and John Wolfe, incumbent and now serving under appointment; zone 3, Ruth Day, incumbent, and Frankie Lou Hale; zone 4, Dr. Marvin Strope, Tom Kiely, now serving under appointment, and Dr. Kenneth Briggs; zone 5, Howard Ronk, incumbent, and Marjorie Sloten.

The trustee election is necessary because of a recent realignment of the zone boundaries throughout the school district.

Red drive blame laid on Moscow

BRUSSELS (UPI)—President Nixon will tell Soviet leaders that they bear responsibility for the Communist offensive in Vietnam, American sources said today.

The sources said this intention was conveyed to America's European allies during a meeting here between Secretary of State William P. Rogers and the North Atlantic Treaty (NATO) Council. The sources said Rogers told the council the United States blames the Russians for the offensive because Soviet arms are being used to fuel it.

POW kin may rap war path

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon is risking with his Vietnam policies a rebuff from a group that was once among his most loyal and effective supporters—the families of American prisoners-of-war.

Relatives of POW's and men missing-in-action (MIA) will gather this weekend in suburban Virginia to evaluate what progress the administration has made since September in freeing the prisoners.

None is satisfied and the debates within the community of POW and MIA families now is whether the administration is to be faulted for the lack of progress and, if so, what to do about it.

Whatever truth the charge once had, the fact that the organization is convening this evening and the anti-administration criticism leveled by an increasing number of its members made it clear the league is considerably less satisfied with the Nixon policy now than it was seven months ago.

Gooding miner hero: 'Get out... I'll stay'

By RUTH MILLER

Times-News writer

KELLOGG — A former Gooding man reportedly killed in the Sunshine Silver Mine is believed to have been one of the heroes of the mining disaster.

Robert Scanlan, 35, a 15-year mining veteran, reportedly died while operating his hoist at the 3,100 foot level of the mine.

Sunshine vice president Marvin Chase told newsmen Thursday that a hoistman stood by at the No. 10 hoist giving many fellow workers an escape route, through thick smoke.

He died at his post. Chase declined to identify the hoistman because his body was still in the mine, but relatives of Scanlan said Thursday that the unidentified hero's story and Scanlan's appeal to match.

Mrs. Marvin Laughlin, Shoshone, aunt of Scanlan, said her nephew was reportedly working on the No. 10 hoist when the fire started in the mine Tuesday.

She said another hoist operator said that Scanlan had said "You get out of here. I'll stay."

Workers reported sighting Scanlan's body still in the hoist but have been unable to reach the bodies because of smoke and fumes.

Mrs. Laughlin said family members in Kellogg reported rescue workers had no idea when they would be able to recover the bodies. Scanlan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Scanlan, Gooding, were in Kellogg today with the victim's wife and three children.

Scanlan was graduated from Gooding High School. He has a brother, Jay, who is a coach at Florence, Ore., and a sister, Alice Jean, in Portland.

Antiwar rallies staged

By United Press International

Guardsmen two years ago.

Antiwar protesters staged demonstrations at colleges and cities across the country Thursday to commemorate the second anniversary of the Kent State killings and participate in a national peace moratorium.

Many turnouts were lighter than expected.

About 400 Kent State University students and Vietnam War veterans marched in a silent parade and 600 cardboard grave markers were placed in front of the campus ROTC building, where four students were shot to death by National Guardsmen two years ago.

The parade and grave markers were to honor the students, who died during a campus protest of the U.S. invasion of Cambodia.

Elsewhere, demonstrations were held in observance of a "national emergency moratorium" against the war, in addition to marking the Kent anniversary.

Classes were canceled at Kent State so students could take part in anniversary events, but only 500 to 600 of the 20,000 students showed up to hear speakers.

After a mile-long march Thursday through San Diego's streets, 2,000 protesters blocked the entrance to the Naval district headquarters and police said 63 persons were arrested.

Iowa Gov. Robert D. Ray Thursday night called out the highway patrol to quell an antiwar demonstration on the University of Iowa campus that erupted into a window smashing spree.

Food price drop told

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Wholesale food prices declined for the second consecutive month in April while the nation's unemployment rate held steady at 5.9 per cent.

Despite the decline in the price of meat, poultry, eggs and other farm products and processed foods, the overall wholesale price index rose 0.1 per cent in April, largely because of price increases for industrial commodities.

The April wholesale price increase was the same as the rise for March, but was far below the nearly 1 per cent increases in each of the three previous months when there were large food price increases. After seasonal adjustment, the April wholesale price index went up 0.3 per cent.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics said the price index for farm products and processed foods and feeds declined 0.7 per cent in April following a 0.4 per cent decline in March. After seasonal adjustment these food prices decreased only 0.1 per cent in April.

The decline, however, did not offset the more than 5 per cent increase in these products during December, January and February.

Because of the food price decline, the index for consumer finished goods (roughly comparable to the items included in the consumer price index) showed a 0.4 per cent decline in March. However, consumer goods other than food went up 0.2 per cent.

Changes in the wholesale price index generally are reflected in the consumer price index and are passed on to consumers in later months. The BLS said there was little change in the employment situation in April, with the number of persons holdings jobs remaining at 81.2 million and those out of work at nearly 5.01 million.

Jobless rates remained little changed for adult men at 4.3 per cent, adult women at 5.4 per cent. Unemployment for white workers also held steady at 5.4 per cent, but the rate for Negro workers declined from 10.5 down to 9.6 per cent.

Rusty Jesser is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joy Jesser, Kimberly, and will be sponsored by the Twin Falls County Farm Bureau. Rusty is a national award winner in 4-H and a lifetime Boy Scout. He is a member of the Methodist Church.

The Twin Falls Kiwanis will sponsor a trip to Boise for Rick

Johnson, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Johnson Jr., Twin Falls. Rick is an officer in the local Civil Air Patrol, member of Key Club and has participated in Junior Achievement Club activities. Rick is a member of the Twin Falls High School Drama Club and the Church of the Nazarene.

Kent Katz will attend Boys' State under the sponsorship of the Twin Falls County Republican Central Committee. Kent is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Ben Katz, Twin Falls, and a member of the LDS Church. He is an Eagle Scout, member of the Junior Red Cross, Teenage Republicans and Key Club. Kent has also served on the student council at Twin Falls High School.

The Twin Falls Rotary Club will sponsor Ralph Pond, the son of Dr. and Mrs. Vaughn Pond, Twin Falls. He is a member of the Key Club and the Boy Scouts. At Twin Falls High School, Ralph is a member of Theatricals, Sigma Hi-Y and band. He is a member of the LDS Church and has participated in local Dilettante productions and Magic Valley Little Theatre.

Mark Rosenbaum will be sponsored by the Twin Falls Lions Club. Mark is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Rosenbaum, Twin Falls. Mark is a member of the Twin Falls High School Pep and Symphony Bands, German Club and is an Explorer Scout. He is a member of the Methodist Church and participated in the Modern Woodman Oratory competition.

Moyle Wilson will attend the convention under the sponsorship of the Twin Falls Association of Insurance Agents. Moyle is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale B. Wilson, Twin Falls. He is a member of the Key Club, Sigma Hi-Y and student council. Moyle is the president of the local Junior Achievement Club and is a Star Scout. He attends the LDS Church.

All eight young men will attend the week-long conference for first hand experience in local and state government. After arriving in Boise, they will form mock cities and elect city officials.

From the 10 city organizations, five counties will be formed and corresponding officials elected. Then, two party organizations will be made up prior to election of state executive, legislative and judicial officials.

The officers will be briefed on their duties by Idaho state officials on the legislative process, law and law enforcement. District and supreme court justices will also be elected to preside at mock trials.

The eight local winners were selected on the basis of their treatment of two written themes on the subjects of amnesty for draft evaders and the feasibility of a regional airport in the Magic Valley.

Members of American Legion Post No. 7 served as judges.

W. A. Bell

TWIN FALLS — William A. (Jack) Bell, 84, Twin Falls, died Thursday morning in a Kimberly nursing home following a long illness.

He was born March 23, 1888, in Dallas, Texas. He came to Twin Falls from Texas in 1914. He was married to Stella Willis on Jan. 5, 1917, in Twin Falls.

Mr. Bell served as fire chief in Twin Falls from 1918 to 1936 at which time he became street foreman, a position he held until 1961 when he retired.

He is survived in addition to his wife by two sons, William H. Bell, Kennewick, Wash., and James Duane Bell, Arnold, Md.; two daughters, Mrs. Darrell (Dorothy) Peck, Burley, and Mrs. Roy (Ruby) Russell, Twin Falls; one brother, James Bell, Wichita, Kan.; two sisters, Anna Bell, Dallas, and Vera B. Lacey of Arlington, Texas; 12 grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren. He was preceded in death by his parents and one brother.

Funeral services for Mr. Bell will be conducted on Saturday at 2 p.m. in Twin Falls Mortuary Chapel with Bishop Darrell Heider officiating. Final rites will be in Sunset Memorial Park. Friends may call at the mortuary Friday and until time of service on Saturday.

Blaine Curtis

BURLEY — Blaine D. Curtis, 60, Burley cattlemen and farmer, died Wednesday at Palo Alto, Calif., following a long illness.

He was in Palo Alto for medical treatment. He was born Aug. 11, 1911, at Salem, Utah. In 1919 he came to Idaho with his parents and they settled at Declo. He was graduated from Declo High School and attended Utah State University at Logan.

He had been a resident of Cassia County since coming to Idaho. On Aug. 11, 1932, he married Ruby Brower at Declo. Their marriage was later solemnized in the Idaho Falls LDS Temple. He was a member of the LDS Church.

Mr. Curtis was active in agriculture, starting his career at Declo. He served as manager for the Simplot Produce Co. for several years. In 1953 he started his own registered herd of Hereford cattle on a ranch he developed six miles south of Burley.

He was chosen Cassia County Grassman of the Year for 1968. Last February he was elected to the Southern Idaho Livestock Industry Hall of Fame. He was a member of the Idaho Cattlemen's Association, American Hereford Association, and the Idaho Hereford Association, and had served as president of these groups three times each.

He served on the original regional airport board.

Surviving are his wife at Burley; three sons, Gale Curtis, Twin Falls, and Dennis Curtis and Raleigh Curtis, both Burley; one daughter, Mrs. David (Susan) Toner, Burley; two brothers, Burdell Curtis, Burley, and Pares Curtis, Centerville, Utah; one sister, Mrs. Warren (Nelda) Reddin, Grand Island, Neb.; and 13 grandchildren.

He was preceded in death by two grandsons.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p.m. Monday in the Burley Fifth-Seventh Ward LDS Chapel, with Bishop Walter R. Petersen officiating. Final rites will be in the Declo Cemetery.

Friends may call at Payne Mortuary Sunday afternoon and evening and at the church Monday one hour before services. Memorials may be given to the Cancer Society.

Camas students complete course

FAIRFIELD — Supt. Harold Stroud said today that 24 students from Camas County High School have completed driver training this week. The course started March 15 with Phil Brackenbury as instructor.

The course required 30 hours of classroom training with 6 hours behind the wheel. This year a car with automatic transmission and a pickup with floor shift were used.

Education

The story rings true. It was among those in the Times-News and it was a discussion of Education by Lee E. Knack, labor relations director for Morrison Knudsen Co. Just what did Mr. Knack say?

"I think education is doing a great job of perpetuating itself and doing a lousy job in preparing people for the field of work."

He added that education often delays for too long the process of exposing American youth to work. The preparation for life is lacking. We must agree with what Mr.

Knack said. We have had that suspicion for quite a spell. It is getting so many youngsters — entering into the life stream — ask first (1) how much am I going to get (2) how many days a week will I have to work (3) what holidays do I get off (4) how long is my vacation?

So we must side along with Mr. Knack. Not all young people fall into this category but there are too many of them who do. Like he said — education tends to fail in preparing students for a life of work.

Moon Science

Moon scientists may be alone in being truly fascinated by each succeeding trip to the sphere. To much of the public the fact the feat has been accomplished is sufficient.

But to the many scientists who have been following the Apollo program, each new lunar visit is almost as exciting as the first.

The reason is that each succeeding voyage has brought back new data about the moon and much of it in conflict with existing theories about the formation of the universe. The very structure of the moon as it has been unraveled by samples and tests confounds the scientific mind.

How is it possible the lunar rocks are magnetized yet the moon apparently has no iron core to act as a magnet? Core samples have demonstrated the moon is chemically different at varying depths, which conflicts with every theory about the moon's origin.

The unchanging nature of the moon, much of which apparently has remained almost as it was born millions of years ago, is in sharp contrast with Earth, which is constantly undergoing change. Can it be the two were one at some distant point in the past?

These are some of the questions which keep the scientist's eyes glued on each lunar revisit as though it were the initial discovery. In a way, each of the landings has been as unique as though it were the first.

Check On Welfare

Probably everyone has his own favorite story of welfare abuse. Certainly there are enough to choose from, including fancy hotel rates in New York City.

Also the one about the New Jersey man who managed to accumulate a stable of horses on welfare and unemployment payments and had the gall to seek a supplemental welfare payment to take care of the mortgage on the stable.

But welfare abuses aren't funny. They debilitate the recipient, corrupt government and cost the taxpayer plenty. Just how much was pointed up by a recent federal survey.

A sampling led to an estimate that as many as a fifth of the nation's 2.7 million welfare families with children were receiving improper payments.

Fourteen percent of the families were receiving more than they should and an additional 5.6 percent should not have been receiving anything at all.

The net loss to taxpayers was half a billion dollars a year and was due primarily to "honest mistakes" rather than fraud. Obviously controls should be tightened to reduce these intolerable abuses to a minimum and make sure that every eligible family receives what it is entitled to — no more, no less.

The potential for abuse in welfare is so great that every means of increasing efficiency ought to be explored, but care must be taken not to continue to fall into the trap of merely enlarging the bureaucracy without real assurance that dollar savings will result.

Hanoi's Resources And Goals

WASHINGTON

President Nixon tries to save his Moscow summit from the Vietnam crisis, evidence grows every day that U.S. intelligence grossly underestimated both Hanoi's resources and its goals in the invasion of South Vietnam.

Authorities here now concede those miscalculations may result in enemy successes

As within the next three weeks that could so weaken Mr. Nixon's bargaining position as to force him to cancel or postpone his visit to Moscow. Such a calamity, coupled with the precarious political balance in West Germany, might in turn lead to a dangerous resumption of a full-scale cold war and an end to Mr. Nixon's careful movement toward East-West detente.

When the offensive was launched, American officials predicted limited enemy objectives—the capture of three underpopulated provincial capitals. Now, five weeks later, these same officials privately speculate that Hanoi's real objective is no less than the destruction of Saigon's army. (ARVN).

That was precisely the Communist strategy in encircling and destroying the flower of the French Indochina army at the critical battle of Dien Bien Phu in 1954. Although the French did not know it at the time, the Viet Minh had committed nearly all their front-line troops to Dien Bien Phu. In short, had the French held out and turned the tide of that historic battle, the road to the defeat of the Communist would have been open.

Today, Hanoi's go-for-broke decision to commit nearly all its major combat units to the invasion of South Vietnam seems cut from the same cloth: destruction of Saigon's best fighting units, notwithstanding the great risk of leaving the homefront unprotected.

The second miscalculation in the hazardous intelligence game was gross underestimation of the types and amounts of military equipment available—in seemingly endless supply—to the North Vietnamese.

Thus, basing forecasts on intelligence estimates from the field, officials here felt the offensive launched across the demilitarized zone (DMZ) March 30 would run out of steam within five or six weeks. The reason: Hanoi could not keep its troops supplied with tanks, long-range artillery and artillery shells. Tanks and guns destroyed, it was felt, could not be replaced. Accordingly, it would only be a matter of weeks before the Communists, denied back-up supplies in critical equipment, would fall back.

As of today, officials here know they underestimated the enemy's ability for resupply, either from stockpiles far larger than imagined or via truck convoy from the north, less vulnerable to U.S. air interdiction than expected.

Accordingly, the early estimate of only "weeks" before the offensive would run out of steam has been radically revised. Hanoi is now believed capable of waging full-scale aggression at least into early June, possibly much longer.

A third miscalculation, well known to everyone, was the assumed knowledge that the spring offensive would be launched into the unpopulated central highlands. A direct assault across the DMZ was ruled out as an unthinkable breach of the understandings reached in Paris in the last days of the Johnson administration.

After five nervous weeks, military officials here now worry about the safety of the 69,000 U.S. troops still in South Vietnam.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Leg Pains

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Is there a connection between diabetes and leg pains? My brother who is a diabetic (not badly) sometimes has jabs of pain in his ankle, then maybe the instep or knee or shin. The balls of his feet are very tender. Sometimes even the sheets hurt his legs.

His doctor has said, "When the sugar clears up, the pain will disappear." Is this true, or are the leg pains something you just have to learn to live with?

He gets some relief when he takes quinine. Mrs. G. K.

A relationship between diabetes and leg pains can exist in two quite different ways. For one, diabetes can be accompanied by extensive hardening of the arteries which in turn means faulty circulation. This poor circulation can produce these painful symptoms in the legs.

The other source of such trouble is a form of neuritis which can occur with even mild diabetes, causing extreme sensitivity and the type of foot distress you mention.

Control of the diabetes plus large doses of vitamin B complex tend to relieve this neuritis although not instantly, of course.

I have seen patients confined to wheelchair because of diabetic neuritis, yet in due time they were playing 18 holes of golf. Such neuritis often occurs in patients whose diabetes has only recently been discovered, and they are started on insulin. As the insulin brings about control of the sugar level, the symptoms subside.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have been taking Catapleg for headaches, for three years. I take about three a day.

Is this addictive? The doctor said no but my daughter told me she saw a report that said it is. —E.W.B.

This is a mixture, primarily caffeine and an ergot preparation, and effective in controlling or warding off migraine and certain types of vascular headaches.

One form of this preparation may contain phenobarbital which can be habit-forming, so caution is necessary.

In any event, even without the phenobarb, the manufacturer recommends that not more than 10 tablets a week be taken, and you are using twice that amount.

Are you sure that your headaches are a type amenable to this medication? Some further consultation with your doctor may be wise, and you may find that aspirin or one of its combinations may be equally effective in combating your headaches.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Where can I get reading material on multiple sclerosis? —Mrs. D. P. If there isn't a local branch of the society, then write to National Multiple Sclerosis Society, 257 Park Ave. South, New York, 10010. (In Canada: M.S. Society of Canada, 76 Avenue Road, Toronto 5, Ont.)

Dear Sir: What does it mean when one has albumin in the urine? What causes it? Can it be corrected by diet? —E.O.

It can mean infection in the urinary tract, or some other kidney disease such as nephritis, so further testing is needed to discover exactly what the situation is. Whatever the cause, diet would not correct it.

The Countdown

WASHINGTON

The White House announced today that Henry Kissinger has just returned from a secret trip to the moon. Ron Ziegler said that Kissinger was the fourth crewman on Apollo 16 and spent 20 hours exploring the moon for President Nixon, who plans to go there just before Election Day.

How Kissinger managed to pull it off is one of the best news stories of our time. The White House had announced that Mr. Kissinger was going to Hollywood to attend the 1972 presentation of the Academy Awards.

When he did not show up at the awards, the Western White House at San Clemente said he had a cold and was being nursed back to health at the home of Tuesday Weld.

A check at Tuesday Weld's house revealed that Kissinger had left on Wednesday with his girl, Friday, but no one knew where he had gone.

A rumor started by the CIA indicated that Kissinger had returned to Peking to pick up his dry cleaning. But Chou En-lai's press secretary said he hadn't seen Kissinger in weeks, and if he was in Peking the Chinese didn't know about it.

The White House correspondents started pressing Ziegler as to Kissinger's whereabouts. Ziegler said with a straight face, "He went to Moscow to talk to the people in the Kremlin about President Nixon's trip."

This sounded logical, but when the Washington newspaper, magazine and TV people checked with their Moscow correspondents, they hit a stone wall.

A press secretary for Brezhnev said no one had seen Kissinger in Moscow and, as far as the Soviets knew, he hadn't been to Leningrad or Kiev, either.

Now angry, the White House correspondents attacked Ziegler for lying to them.

Ziegler said he had made a mistake and that Kissinger was really in Paris holding secret talks with the North Vietnamese delegation.

While the American press was being led on the wild goose chase, Kissinger was down at Cape Kennedy dressed in white coveralls, disguised as one of the workers who would help the astronauts into Apollo 16. At the last minute, just before the hatch was closed, Kissinger jumped into the capsule and said, "I am on a secret mission for the President. Let's get out of here."

The astronauts, who hadn't been in on the plan, protested that there wasn't enough food for four men on the space journey.

Don't worry, Kissinger said, holding up a bottle of orange juice. "I brought my own Tang."

While they were hurtling toward the moon, Kissinger briefed the astronauts on what they were to do. He told them to go about their business on the moon as if nothing had happened; under no condition were they to focus their TV cameras on him, and while they were picking up rocks and going through the motions of setting up scientific experiments, he would make arrangements for the President's visit to the moon.

The astronauts played their parts perfectly, and there wasn't one person watching TV who suspected that Kissinger was on the moon at the same time as the Apollo 16 mission.

The only time the secret was endangered was when Kissinger tripped over a wire on the moon and messed up a million dollar experiment. Fortunately all spacesuits look alike, and everybody thought it was astronaut John Young who goofed.

On the way back, Kissinger splashed down first by parachute into Key Biscayne and was picked up out of the water by Bebe Rebozo.

It was only after Kissinger made a full report to the President that Ziegler admitted to Henry's true whereabouts for the past 10 days. Thanks to one of the best kept secrets of the decade, Ziegler confirmed that the President would be able to go to the moon this fall as scheduled.

A Triangle

Next President Nixon goes to Moscow. The axiom, "East is East and West is West," is outdated now. In 1972, for better or worse, the world is a triangle.

The unpronounceable president of the Sudan in Africa, Maj. Gen. Jafaar Numeiri, says his relations with Russia are "very bad." Last April he signed a deal with Moscow whereby they were to provide him with guns. Now, he says, "They want to run my country."

He wanted, and, not domination. He wanted a hand-up with no strings.

So now he says the Sudanese equivalent of "nuts to them," says he'll manage without Soviet weapons.

In one African country after another, the Communists have been thrown out. Both Russian Communists and Red Chinese.

What I'm saying is that Communists, who would dominate the world if they could, can't.

The appetite for national identification is everywhere. Leaders in Africa, as elsewhere, have rediscovered that home folk want a home-grown government they can respect.

They do not want domination by Moscow or Peking any more than they want intrusion in their affairs by us.

It's not a global tug-of-war between "them" and "us" any more.

The world is a jigsaw puzzle of many parts, three big ones. For us, the balance is less precious then it has ever been.

A Doak Barnett, an "old China hand," says President Nixon's trips to Peking and Moscow are not designed to "change" anything, rather to recognize a change that has already taken place.

He believes if you were Russian, Chinese or Japanese you would have more to worry about than we do. Not that our geographical isolation means anything any more, but because the pressures of disproportionately distributed populations have a way of creating internal combustion.

Now, about Formosa.

President Nixon did not decide in Peking to "withdraw our troops from Free China." That intention was announced during his first year in office when he traveled Asia personally and publicly to "sever the wrong strings to make known the fact that 'the future of Asia would be left in Asian hands.'"

Nobody has more admiration than I for Chiang Kai-shek, but one cannot honestly oppose American involvement in Indochina and favor it in China. Americans, whose reach has exceeded their grasp, are reverting to their own enlightened self-interest.

And during the inevitable reshuffle of the Third World, we will serve both them and ourselves better with trade rather than aid and by minding our own business so well that we may again be a worthy example for emerging nations.

Paul woman named city recreation director

Outdoor cooking featured

PAUL — A Paul woman with a love of baseball will serve as city recreation director this summer.

The Paul City Council approved the appointment of Mrs. LaMar (Missy) Stuart, 29, as recreation director for the three summer months during Wednesday night's council meeting.

Mrs. Stuart, who prefers to be known as Missy, said in her application for the position that she is an avid fan of young folks' baseball, and "loves children."

The council also approved the appointment of Perry Fincham as superintendent of services, succeeding Floyd Clark, who will retire July 1. Fincham has been working with Clark as an assistant in the sanitation department.

Fincham's post will be filled by an assistant, Elmer Knopp, also Paul, who has been working with the department.

for some time. The Idaho Highway Department will conduct a traffic survey along Ellis Street, including the intersection of State Highways 25 and 27, in the third week of October, Mayor Robert Larsen said.

The department had asked permission to take the survey at the peak traffic period of the year to determine whether the city's request for a traffic signal at the intersection should be granted.

The council suggested that the third week of October would probably be the peak period of the year with agricultural activity in full swing.

Highway department representatives had told the council at an earlier meeting that the traffic volume at the intersection was insufficient to warrant installation of the traffic light. A survey will be taken to settle the controversy. The council also considered a proposal to allow a commercial trash hauler to collect trash in the city, replacing the present city-operated service.

A Burley businessman identified as McIntire said he might be interested in bidding for the service but could give no details on estimated costs until he knew what the city regulations were.

The council tabled the matter until a later meeting.

The council approved an agreement with Ralph Besel, Burley, who is building a new subdivision in Paul on provision of water for the area. The city will install the pipes to the subdivision, calling for separate bids for the pipe and installation.

PAUL — Members of the Paul Planners Extension Homemakers Club had a lesson on outdoor cooking Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Dave Kraus.

Mrs. A. H. Sampe, president, presented the lesson. A plate luncheon was served and recipes of the different dishes served were given to the club members.

The yearbooks prepared by Mrs. Paul Pedersen and Mrs. Sampe were given to all members.

Mrs. Gary Uhrich, Rupert, demonstrated the art of making decoupage pictures. Several pictures were displayed.

The queen size quilt which the club has been working on for some time was displayed.

Showdown Senate vote delay likely

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A showdown Senate vote on end-the-war legislation probably will be postponed until after President Nixon's trip to the Soviet Union.

A consensus among senate leaders, as well as both advocates and opponents of the measure, appeared to have developed Thursday to lay the measure aside in an effort to prevent embarrassing the President before the summit meeting in Moscow beginning May 22.

Backers of the measure to cut off funds for U. S. combat in Vietnam after Dec. 31 now feel it would be better to have the vote sometime in June. They are at least half-a-dozen votes short of a majority and could lose even more heavily because of sentiment that a public confrontation should be avoided now while South Vietnam is incurring setbacks on the battlefield.

The White House had been pressing for a vote on the measure this week to keep the debate from dragging on until Nixon's trip to Moscow. But it evidently accepted the postponement Thursday as Senate leaders met secretly with the principals in the issue.

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, in remarks prepared for delivery to the Senate today, warned that

If congress continues "to acquiesce in a policy which leaves us partly in and partly out, we shall move inexorably closer, day by day, to that which the policy purports to avoid: a rendezvous with disaster and defeat."

"We are told 'this is not the right time' or 'this is not the right bill'."

"Perhaps not. But we are now in the eighth year of the American ordeal in Vietnam. When will the 'right time' ever come? Will we ever find the 'right bill'?"

Church is cosponsor with Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., of an amendment to deny funds for American combat in Indochina after Dec. 31, subject only to the release of prisoners of war. The amendment was attached by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to a state department authorization bill which is now pending on the floor. Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., has moved to knock the antiwar provision out of the bill.

Church warned that even if the current North Vietnamese offensive is turned back, "then as surely as leaves wither in the fall, other attacks will follow."

He said the strategic bombing of North Vietnam will "fail again as it failed before."

"Darken their skies with clouds of bombers, rain down destruction upon them, spread the carnage far and wide, and they may scurry for cover but they won't yield. The bombing will only stiffen their spines. It will never bend their knees. Until we Americans, the foreigners, leave, this war will persist."

4-1 margin

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — Tennesseans voted by a 4-1 margin Thursday for a proposed amendment to the U. S. Constitution prohibiting busing of school children to achieve a racial balance.

With 98 per cent of the precincts tallied, the count was 419,426 for the amendment and 405,555 against in a straw vote that only counted as a sentiment of public opinion.

In the Mississippi River city of Memphis, where the anti-busing campaign has been most vocal lately, a large percentage of blacks voted for the amendment.

Wallace hits third place

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace, getting two of every three votes cast in a state angered by racial busing edicts, swept all 49 national convention delegates in Thursday's Tennessee Democratic primary.

The triumph raised Wallace's delegate total to 169, moving him into third place behind Sens. George McGovern and Hubert Humphrey and ahead of Sen. Edmund Muskie.

More important, Wallace said, it had the people of Tennessee "sending a strong message to the Democratic Party." That message, he said, is that the party will "have a platform like George Wallace stands for."

Humphrey finished a distant second in the field of 11 candidates, and McGovern was even further behind in third.

With 98 per cent of the precincts reporting, Wallace had 331,543 votes, or 68 per cent. Humphrey had 77,695, or 16 per cent. McGovern had 35,288 or 7 per cent.

Shirley Chisholm, the black congresswoman from New York who was the only candidate other than Wallace to campaign in Tennessee in recent weeks, placed fourth with 18,625, or 4 per cent. Muskie, who avoided Tennessee after making a pro-busing statement in Chattanooga last fall, was far back in fifth with 9,720, 2 per cent.

It was Wallace's second primary triumph and was similar to his first, in Florida, in that he benefitted from the presence of a school busing referendum on the ballot. Tennessee voters concerned by busing orders in Nashville and Memphis came out 4 to 1 in favor of a Constitutional amendment to ban busing for the purpose of racial balance. Wallace routed the field in metropolitan areas hit by busing orders. But he also enjoyed lopsided margins in numerous counties with virtually no blacks and consequently no busing situations.

President Nixon, who carried Tennessee in the 1968 election, took 96 per cent of the vote in the GOP presidential preference primary, swamping Reps. John Ashbrook of Ohio and Paul McCloskey of California.

But three times as many Tennesseans voted for Wallace in the Democratic primary than for Nixon. Heavy Republican crossovers were apparent in every area and particularly in East Tennessee, traditionally a GOP stronghold.

Although Wallace directed much of his appeal at the working man, he fared well in high as well as low income white neighborhoods. The Belle Meade precinct of Nashville — one of the state's most affluent — gave Wallace 366 votes to 135 for McGovern and 57 for Humphrey.

Woody Utah

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — About 28 per cent of the land in Utah is classified as forest land. But just one-fourth of the forest area may be used for commercial timber operations.

McGovern gets edge in Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI) — Sen. George S. McGovern, trailing in the statewide vote in the Ohio primary, held a narrow, precarious lead early today over Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey in the battle for the state's delegates to the Democratic convention.

With 99 per cent of the votes cast in Tuesday's mistake-ridden primary finally counted, Thursday night, McGovern had won 27 delegates and led in races for 46 others, a total of 73. Humphrey had won 48 and led in the voting for 19, a total of 67.

Election officials here warned that the final delegate tally could change sharply, because paper-thin margins separated the two candidates in nine races for delegates in congressional districts.

Furthermore, approximately 2 per cent of the voters, who split their ballots and voted for delegates pledged to different presidential candidates, will have their votes counted next week. The split ballots are being mailed here Friday from all the state's counties.

Late Thursday the State Board of Elections gave Humphrey 467,523 votes, 41.5 per cent. McGovern had 441,895 votes, 39.3 per cent.

Humphrey's victory in the statewide race gave him 38 at-large delegates. He had 10 delegates elected in district races, and led in voting for 10. McGovern's 27 delegates and possible 46 others all came in district races.

Final returns still were pending in 10 of the 33 races for the 115 congressional district delegates. In nine district races worth 41 delegates, fewer than 1,000 votes separated McGovern and Humphrey.

Next Tuesday at least 16 precincts in Cuyahoga, the state's largest county which includes Cleveland, will open again because they failed to remain open long enough on election day.

The supplemental 26-precinct primary could reverse Humphrey's slim margin in Cuyahoga County, but it could not overturn his statewide lead.

Gunman ambushes patrol

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI) — A gunman ambushed an Ulster Defense Regiment (UDR) patrol near Londonderry today, spraying the vehicle with machine gun fire but causing no injuries, an army spokesman said.

It was the second time in 24 hours that security forces narrowly escaped injury in an ambush. A similar incident occurred early Thursday at Kilrea, north of Belfast, involving an army patrol.

The army spokesman said the UDR patrol, Northern Ireland's part-time defense force, was hit as it cruised the streets of Dungiven, a Roman Catholic village 20 miles south of Londonderry. Fire was returned but no hits claimed.

Earlier, in Londonderry, the army said troopers believed they hit a sniper who fired on the Bligh's Lane army post which overlooks the Roman Catholic Creggan Estate, a "no-go" area to security forces.

"The man was firing from an abandoned house," the spokesman said. "Our lads returned fire and he ran out. He was seen to fall and then dragged away by friends."

A soldier shot by a sniper Thursday night in Belfast's Roman Catholic Andersonstown area was in critical condition, the spokesman said.

Rock-throwing youths attacked an army observation post on Protestant Springfield Road in Belfast for the fourth successive day, the spokesman said.

Plan stirs fuss

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House Republicans formally have thrown their support to a Democratic substitute for President Nixon's revenue-sharing bill, approving its prospects for enactment.

But the proposal to spread $30 billion over five years among states and local governments still faces numerous hurdles, including a crowded Senate agenda.

The plan has stirred sharp opposition from left and right. Conservatives argue that the federal government, running up record deficits, has no money to share. Liberals say the sharing plan should be tied to loophole closing that would boost tax revenues to offset the costs.

GOP leader Gerald R. Ford said the 28-man House Republican Policy Committee approved the bill without dissent Thursday and recommended its prompt enactment.

The committee rejected the advice of Rep. John W. Byrnes, R-Wis., senior GOP member of the tax-writing Ways and Means Committee which drafted and passed the bill. Byrnes called the measure wrong in principle, dangerous, and possibly unconstitutional. He also said the government has nothing to share now but a multi-billion dollar annual deficit.

Joy is discovering that the great tradition of Valiant value lives on in Plymouth Duster.

A couple of years ago we introduced a sporty version of the Plymouth Valiant, called Duster. Duster has quickly become one of the hottest-selling small cars in America. It figures, Duster is just big enough, just small enough to be just right. So is the price. And so is our deal.

Joy is America's lowest priced full-size V-8 hardtop.

Joy is discovering that a Fury—like the Fury II hardtop above—is priced lower than its comparable rivals. This comparison is based on the manufacturers' suggested retail prices of lowest-priced V-8 2-door hardtops.

Market Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—Prices, aided by a flurry of buying at mid-session, 2343 higher in fairly active trading after more than three hours Friday.

The Dow Jones industrial average of 30 selected blue chip issues, up more than six points at noon, sported a gain of 5.87 at 943.18 around 1:15 p.m.

Standard & Poor's 500 stock index was up 0.47 to 106.72.

Advances outdistanced declines, 791 to 482, among the 1,641 issues crossing the tape. The three-hour volume came to 8,600,000 shares, compared to 9,280,000 issues in the comparable period Thursday.

Analysts said buying activity picked up sharply around midday on a report in a financial newspaper that the United States had agreed to two peace demands in negotiating with the North Vietnamese.

A short time later, however, the Defense Department said it may land U.S. Marines in Vietnam to protect Americans still in the war zone.

Steels, motors, chemicals and oils were all mostly higher.

Rail and airline issues were strong, as were aircraft stocks.

Grandmother's Tea slated in Gooding

GOODING — A Grandmother's Tea will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday at the Gooding Odd Fellows Hall.

Mae Kopsay, last year's Gooding County Grandmother of the Year, will crown this year's honoree.

There are 17 contestants this year, sponsored by churches, clubs and other organizations. Each grandmother submits a letter on what it means to be a grandmother and the club sponsoring her sends in information on why she was nominated as grandmother of the year.

From this information, an out-of-town judge picks the winner.

A hats and history fashion show will be presented and 11 hats in styles popular from 1896 to 1960 will be modeled. Virginia Mink will narrate the style show.

Donna Hawks will provide piano background music. Merle Stoddard's dance class will perform and an eighth grade girls' sextet will present several numbers.

Tickets will be available at the door.

BPW installation set Sunday in T.F.

TWIN FALLS — According to Doris Harper, president of Twin Falls Business and Professional Women, the organization has four main objectives.

They are to elevate standards for women in business and professions, to promote the interests of business and professional women, to bring about a spirit of cooperation among business and professional women of the U.S. and to extend opportunities to business and professional women through education.

The organization's coming event of interest is the installation breakfast at which new officers will be installed in an emblem ceremony.

The new officers are Betty Ainsworth, president; Faye Hoffman, president-elect; La Verna Rudolph, vice president; Minerva Lorain, recording secretary; Pearl Aldrich, corresponding secretary; Frances Buhler, treasurer; Ina Knox, parliamentarian, and Doris Harper, counselor.

Twin Falls BPW organized in 1921, has always sponsored a Girls' Stater. The organization also sponsors Samothrace Club, a College of Southern Idaho service club, drawing its membership from women students at CSI.

A number of members of the organization are members of the Magic Valley Hospital Guild and were honored at a meeting during the year.

This year, the organization instituted a student loan fund which is executed by the Twin Falls Bank and Trust.

Other projects this year included a Christmas donation of food and gifts, a special 51st anniversary celebration attended by representatives of five area clubs, a decision to support the Rock Creek Park and a decision to help the Hire the Handicapped program.

Art work slated Saturday

TWIN FALLS — Area artists will be available Saturday at the Art Mart to demonstrate making individualized Mothers' Day cards, placecards and small paintings.

The free demonstrations will be from 1 to 5 p.m. in the Art Mart, located in the side wing of the Idaho Bank and Trust Building.

According to Charlotte Duggan, chairman, ideas for permanent artistic gifts will be demonstrated by Peg Sass and Faye Konicek, water colors; Hilda Burgess, shells and painted background; June Haggard, aluminum and acrylic paint and Billie Pooler, cut-out felt blossoms and painted leaves.

History of hats

PREPARING for the history of hats fashion show and Grandmother's Tea are Minnie Morris, left, trying on a hat from 1924, and Erma Lee Jones. The event is set at 2 p.m. Saturday at the Gooding Odd Fellows Hall.

news about the people you know Valley Living

DEAR ABBY: Five months ago a gal I'll call her Betty, age 27, moved in with my next door neighbor. Betty came here to get a divorce.

Since my neighbor has no telephone, she asked if Betty could use mine to keep in touch with her lawyer. I said, "Sure." Well, in these last five months, Betty has given my phone number to just about every guy in Las Vegas and out.

She comes in, without knocking, and starts making these collect calls all over the United States, and she talks for hours.

Also, I am expected to go next door and get her at all hours if her boyfriends call. Guys have called me in the middle of the night direct from California, and they get mad at me if I say it's too late to run next door to get Betty.

Abby, I have been insulted by phone a number of times but I kept my cool because I like the neighbors Betty is living with. Well, last Friday, when some drunk from Texas called for Betty at 3 a.m., I lost my cool, and I really let her have it.

Now she wants to make up. She says friends don't let a little thing like that come between them. Abby, is this what you call "a little thing"? I'd like your unbiased opinion.

LOST MY COOL IN VEGAS

DEAR LOST: Five will get you ten, there is no way you can spoil the "friendship" between you and Betty. [As long as YOU have the telephone, that is.]

DEAR ABBY: We are Jewish. Our son has recently become engaged to a lovely girl who is converting to the Jewish faith.

For an engagement gift, I was planning on sending her a gold necklace with the Hebrew word for "LIFE" on it.

My husband disagrees with my choice of gift. He feels that we should not emphasize the religious aspect.

What do you think, Abby? We have never met the girl. Do you think that this would be an appropriate gift for her or not?

IN DOUBT

DEAR IN: When in doubt, don't.

DEAR ABBY: I need help! My husband works the night shift and I am absolutely petrified from the moment he leaves the house until daylight the next morning.

He calls me "foolish" and laughs at me because I am such a "fraidy cat" but I just can't help it. I have been so afraid that I have actually cried!

I have close neighbors, guns, a telephone at my elbow and even a dog, but these things don't make me sleep any better. I also work (during the day) and I can hardly keep my eyes open at work any more because I don't get any sleep at night.

I am about to crack up. I don't have anyone I can ask to stay with me at night. Nobody understands why I am so afraid. My husband (whom I really love very much) refuses to understand how frightened I am when I am alone and it's dark outside. Even I can't understand it. Please, please, help me. I am not crazy, I am just

AFRAID OF THE DARK

DEAR AFRAID: It's probably an overactive imagination combined with some unresolved fears from your childhood. If I were you, I'd see a psychiatrist. It's a lot cheaper than a nervous breakdown.

DEAR ABBY: I have read so many letters in your column from young daughters in law who were critical of their mothers in law.

Please, Abby, tell these young women not to judge their mothers in law until they themselves have been a mother in law. I have been a mother in law for three years now and believe me, it has made me a much better daughter in law!

It only a young woman could realize that a man does not have to stop being a son in order to be a good husband.

Richfield names top students

RICHFIELD — Top students of the 1972 graduating class at Richfield High School have been announced by Supt. Neil Anderson.

Charlotte Davis has been named valedictorian. Carol Sanders and Ann Welhausen are co-salutatorians. They will speak at commencement exercises scheduled for 8 p.m. May 16 at the school gymnasium.

Miss Davis is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kent Davis. She has maintained a 3.86 grade point average during high school. She was student body treasurer and Girls' League president her senior year. She was junior class treasurer and a member of the Pep Club and Girls' League.

Charlotte moved to Richfield from Murtaugh. At Murtaugh High School she participated in the band and chorus and was track manager. She was sophomore secretary-treasurer.

She has been active in 4-H club work, is a member of the United Methodist Church, and sings with the youth choir.

Miss Sanders, who has maintained a 3.65 grade point average, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Linley T. Sanders. She was student body vice president, secretary of both the junior and senior classes, and freshman representative to the student council. She has been a member of the Pep Club for four years and was vice president her senior year.

She is a member of the girls' R Club, being active in track and volleyball. She belongs to Girls' League and was a delegate to Tri-State, and has also participated in speech, drama, and French activities at the school.

Carol is an active member of the LDS Church where she is Sunday school and MIA organizer. She is seminary president and will graduate from seminary Sunday evening.

Miss Welhausen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Welhausen. Her grade point average is 3.64. She was freshman class secretary. She has been a member of the Girls' League for four years and sang with the chorus two years. During her sophomore year she was a homecoming queen candidate.

Ann is a member of the Lutheran Church in Gooding.

IDAHO'S Junior Miss Anne Hagerman and Carol Williams, Pennsylvania, test the water in one of the fish ponds at Bellingrath Gardens, Mobile, Ala., during an outing prior to rehearsals for the 1972 America's Junior Miss Pageant. Preliminaries today, Saturday and Sunday will set the stage for the national telecast Tuesday.

T.F. clubs help handicapped

TWIN FALLS — The Optimist and TORCH Clubs of Twin Falls have raised more than $225 to help send local handicapped children to Boise May 21-24.

TORCH Club President Vicki Smith said the clubs hope to send 50 children to a Special Olympics meet in the capital city for sports activities.

The meet will consist of special events including basketball, bowling, swimming, gymnastics, track and field events.

The money raised thus far has come from local businesses and the clubs are now seeking donations from individuals who might like to sponsor a child in the meet.

Miss Smith said the cost of sponsoring a single child is $9 plus $2 for a uniform if desired.

We are asking businesses and local individuals to sponsor one or two children. In the meantime, we are selling bumper stickers for the bicycle rodeo," said Miss Smith.

The group will be accompanied by 15 students, members of the TORCH Club, and special education teachers.

Persons wishing to sponsor a child may contact a TORCH Club member at any of the following telephone numbers: 733-4861, 733-9554 ext. 236 or 733-1489.

Donations made out to the TORCH Club may be mailed to 1628 Poplar, Twin Falls.

Valley Briefs

TWIN FALLS — Vishnu Camp 2970, Royal Neighbors of America, will meet at 8 p.m. Friday at the IOOF Hall. All members are asked to be present for drill practice. Mrs. Josephine Wurst and Mrs. Susie Pratt will serve. Visiting Royal Neighbors are welcome.

TWIN FALLS — Debra Jeanne Bishop, Twin Falls, was one of 36 working wives of Ricks College graduates who received the "Putting Hubby Through" awards for working and giving financial assistance to help their husbands finish two years of college.

TWIN FALLS — There will be a leaf exchange during the Magic Valley Santa Paula Club meeting Monday at 2 p.m. at the home of Clara Walton.

two tricks in each other suit, game and rubber.

If East is a really good player, he lets the jack of diamonds hold the trick. South returns to his own hand and repeats the diamond finesse. This time, East produces the king and later on South finds that he can't ever get to dummy to collect that third and most important diamond trick.

If South is in the contract insurance business, he doesn't play the jack of diamonds on the first lead of the suit. He just sticks in the eight. Now it doesn't matter what East does. South is going to wind up with that third diamond trick.

Baptists set family meet

TWIN FALLS — "It's All About the Family" is the theme of a panel discussion at 8 p.m. Sunday at First Baptist Church, Ninth and Shoshone. The event is in recognition of Christian Family Week and Mental Health Month.

Panel participants will be Mrs. Helen Henderson, moderator, Twin Falls County Youth Rehabilitation Counselor; Don Frank, Region Five Director, Public Assistance

Department; Dr. Don Stephenson, professor of psychology, College of Southern Idaho; Keith Turner, principal, Lincoln school; Rev. Leslie C. Brown, Valley Christian Church, and Michael McKenna, assistant professor of sociology, College of Southern Idaho.

The panel has been arranged by Mrs. Roy O. Shaub, chairman of adult education, and the Board of Christian Education at First Baptist Church.

Program set

TWIN FALLS — For a look into the past, Presbyterian women have been planning and working for months on a special program for their potluck luncheon at 12:30 p.m. Thursday.

Senior members, especially 40-year members, and all past presidents are to be honored. There will be a playlet, "Looking Backward," giving highlights of the history of women's work in Twin Falls Presbyterian church.

Some rare old costumes will be modeled, and there will be a display of mementos, including quilts made by the former "Women's Sewing Circle."

Organ music and appropriate songs are scheduled.

Blaine seminary graduation Sunday

RICHFIELD — Blaine Stake LDS Seminary graduation exercises will be held at 7:30 p.m. Sunday at the Blaine Stake Center in Richfield.

Mervin W. Gifford, South Central Seminary district coordinator, Twin Falls, will deliver the main address.

Seminary students from Richfield, Shoshone, Dietrich, Carey, Hailey and Sun Valley Wards who have completed the outlined program set by the church Board of Education will receive certificates.

This will be the first year that a new four-year graduation program goes into effect. In the past students who have completed three years of study have received certificates of graduation, and then could go on for a fourth year of non-credit study, and receive a certificate of leadership and special achievement.

This year, the "Certificate of Graduation" for 1972, except for seniors who would be completing graduation requirements of three years, will be eliminated. However, the "Certificate of Leadership and Special Achievement" will be presented to the fourth-year students as usual.

Students who have three years of seminary, and who would have ordinarily graduated this year, will receive the "Certificate of Achievement." Seniors who have not completed four years of seminary, also will get the usual "Certificate" of Achievement.

Dinner set Saturday

FILER — A youth fellowship dinner will be at 7 p.m. Saturday in the fellowship hall of the Missionary Church.

The event will honor four graduates of the Filer High School who are members of the church. They are Cory Molsee, Cindy Sturgill, Debbie Baker and Carol Kious.

School set

TWIN FALLS — A lay evangelism school will be conducted from 7 to 9 p.m. daily Monday through May 12 at First Southern Baptist Church, Washington at Filer, Twin Falls.

Rev. Willis Blair, pastor of First Baptist Church, Burley, will lead the school which is designed to train lay people of the church and other interested persons to share their Christian witness.

Concert tonight

TWIN FALLS — The Layton, Utah, First Southern Baptist Church youth choir will present a concert at 8 p.m. today at the First Southern Baptist Church, Washington Street and Filer Avenue, Twin Falls.

Featured will be a trio, "The Regeneration." Trio members are David Dupree, Richard Dupree and Linda Campbell. Refreshments and a social hour will follow the concert.

Cassia conclave slated

BURLEY — Vaughn D. Featherstone will be the featured speaker or visiting authority at the Cassia LDS Stake Conference May 6 and 7.

Featherstone, the second counselor to Bishop Brown, was born in Stockton, Tooele County, Utah, on March 26, 1931. He attended South High School in Salt Lake City and also completed special courses at Long Beach State College.

He served as a counselor in the Garden Grove Ward Bishopric, then as stake mission president in Valley View Stake before being named to the church priesthood missionary committee in 1966. The next year he became a member of the YMMIA General Board, assigned to the Ensign Committee.

While in Salt Lake City he was produce manager for Albertsons and a member of the Supermarket Institute National Produce Executive Committee. In October, 1970, he became president of the Boise North Stake. His other varied church services include stake and ward MIA leadership and positions as scoutmaster and Aaronic Priesthood general secretary.

Religion better than methadone for treatment

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Religion may be better than methadone for getting some addicts off heroin, the government's top drug abuse official said today.

But Dr. Jerome H. Jaffe rejected the complaints of some black militants that methadone maintenance is another form of enslavement for blacks. He said treatment with the heroin substitute "is perhaps the approach that has the widest appeal for the drug user and is, for the ones we see in urban areas, the approach that is most likely to have a significant impact on social adjustment."

Attend conference

TWIN FALLS — About a dozen members of Our Savior Lutheran church, Twin Falls, are planning to attend the Blue Mountain Conference of American Lutheran Church Worthen Monday.

The event will be held at LaGrande, Ore.

Jaffe, 38, directs the Special Action Office for Drug Abuse Prevention, which was created last year to coordinate federal drug strategies. He reports directly to President Nixon.

"We have seen some remarkable changes in addicts with a varied number of religious approaches," he said in an interview. "I don't mean just one particular religion. There is Teen Challenge, Addicts For Jesus, Black Muslims, and Zen Buddhism. People find another cause. It's sort of a change through a new commitment to something. That has certainly changed a number of people."

Conclave opens

BURLEY — Women were gathering at the Ponderosa Inn here today for the annual conference of the Christian Business and Professional Women's Council and Christian Women's Clubs.

The three-day event is expected to attract more than 300 women from Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Utah. Ida Kaufman, Buhl, will be conference chairman.

Pat Matriciana, who has worked as a district director for Campus Crusade and as the field director for Athletics in Action, will be the featured speaker. He is now at the University of California, Berkeley campus.

The national chairman of the Christian Business and Professional Women's Council and national vice chairman of the Christian Women's Club, Helen D. Gaugh, also is expected to attend.

Lutheran banquet set Tuesday

TWIN FALLS — The annual Mother-Daughter banquet of Our Savior Lutheran Church will be Tuesday evening.

The dinner will begin at 6:30 p.m. at Bishop Rhea auditorium in the Episcopal Church.

Lacy Thompson will serve as mistress of ceremonies. Karen Neobale is program chairman and Bertha Wilson and Geri Borah are banquet co-chairmen.

The tribute to mothers will be given by Debra Weigt and the response by Kasey Weigt. Theme for the event is "Bobbies."

ON DISPLAY SATURDAY ONLY!

Don't miss this once in a lifetime opportunity to see Evil Knievel's Cadillac Station Wagon. There are only 6 such automobiles that have ever been built. The first was in 1968 and is retained by Cadillac Motor Division, a 1969 is owned by Keith Allen, a pro hockey coach, a 1970 owned by Dean Martin, a 1970 owned by an automobile collector, this 1971 owned by Evil Knievel, and a 1972 for sale by Cadillac Motor Division. This luxurious automobile is hand built and has a base price of $19,600. Evil Knievel's Cadillac sold for over $21,000.

John Christoffersen, owner of John Chris Motors said, "in my 26 years dealing with Cadillacs this is the first Cadillac Station Wagon I've ever seen. We may not have any Cadillac Station Wagons for sale but we do have Sedans, Coupe DeVilles, and an El Dorado in stock."

Secure workers lost rights

By RICHARD CHARNOCK
BOISE (UPI) — Merit system state employees have traded a political birthright for job security.

Under Idaho's Personnel Commission certified state employees who achieve tenure supposedly are insulated against the political lightning which used to move workers in and out of jobs under the spoils system.

They can be removed from office, of course, for cause or if a position is abolished — the latter way a way, incidentally, that some officials have used to circumvent the merit system.

But to gain this career status for the more clerical and technical of the state jobs the employees have given up the right to active participation in partisan politics.

This means they cannot, under the "Little Hatch Act" feature of the personnel law, campaign for candidates of their choice or, for that matter, run for elected offices themselves. Educators and, naturally, elected officials, are exempt from the politicking prohibition of the personnel commission law.

At first blush this would seem fair. But, in the current campaign at least, some observers wonder whether it actually is.

Atty. Gen. W. Anthony Park, for instance, is running for the Democratic nomination for United States Senate. His term of office as attorney general is not up until January, 1975, and he is not resigning to seek the higher office.

In clinging to the job he now has while seeking another, Park told newsmen the day he an-absence as president of Idaho State University so he, too, can run for the Democratic Senatorial nomination.

Board member A. L. Alford Jr., Lewiston, said this made "first-class" citizens of educators — giving them the same rights as all other citizens who might wish to seek public office.

However, thanks to the personnel law, there still are some "second-class" citizens on the state payroll.

Rose Bowman, Boise, the Women's Lib candidate for the Democratic nomination, told her initial campaign news conference she was forced to quit her job as an Idaho Agriculture Department secretary in order to run.

As a secretary, Mrs. Bowman, of course, was under the personnel commission regulations against politicking and therefore could not retain her state post and still seek the senatorial nomination.

Recent news conference questions indicate some wonder whether this is fair — that is, the top dogs get to keep their jobs and still run while the rank and file workers do not.

Truly, it does appear that merit system employees have traded job security for a political birthright.

Analysis

nounced his senatorial candidacy that if incumbents were required to resign every time they sought election nobody could run for re-election as an incumbent.

That is true so far as it goes. However, that answer skirts the question of the propriety of an elected official running for a higher office in the middle of his present term.

Thursday, the Idaho Board of Education granted Dr. William E. (Bue) Davis a leave of

'Carpenters' may run

By RICHARD CHARNOCK

BOISE (UPI) — There is a possibility that home-grown carpetbaggers may be able to run for Congress in Idaho, an assistant attorney general said Thursday.

Assistant Atty. Gen. John Croner said a 1958 case decided by the Maryland Supreme Court indicates a candidate for Congress does not have to reside in the congressional district he seeks to represent.

Under the United States Constitution a candidate for Congress, among his other qualifications, must be an "inhabitant" of the state he seeks to represent in the House of Representatives.

Court decisions have said over the years that states can neither add to nor detract from the qualifications set forth in the federal constitution, he said.

In handing down its decision on a state law the Maryland Supreme Court held that requiring a candidate for Congress to be a resident of his congressional district is "an additional qualification." The court said it therefore contravened the constitutional qualification and was unconstitutional and void.

Because of the ruling, Croner said, "Yes, there's a question" about whether the state can require a candidate for Congress to live in the district from which he is running as long as he is an inhabitant of the state at the time of his election.

"This is one state court's determination of the matter," Croner cautioned.

But he added that "state courts which have not spoken on the matter do look at states that have."

"In the final analysis, he said, it still would be up to the U. S. House of Representatives to decide the question.

"We always keep our cool — there's a direct draft on us from the boss' office."

ISU head gets OK for race

MOSCOW (UPI) — The State Board of Education unanimously granted Dr. William E. (Bud) Davis, president of Idaho State University, a leave of absence Thursday to run for the United States Senate.

Davis earlier announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for the Senate seat being vacated by retirement of Republican Len B. Jordan. He asked the board to relieve him of his administrative duties effective immediately with the leave time he has coming so that he can "make a clean break with the institution and not be involved in any institutional decisions."

Dr. John Swartley, Boise, moved the board accept the request effective immediately and for an indefinite period but not to go beyond Nov. 10. A. L. Alford Jr., Lewiston, seconded the motion.

Davis asked the board after Nov. 10 to "re-evaluate my position" and make a determination of his future at that time.

Extra meet for solons?

BOISE (UPI) — House Speaker William J. Lanting, R-Hollister, says a special session of the legislature may be necessary if Congress passes a revenue-sharing bill.

In order to use the $15 million in funds, which would be available, Lanting said, the legislature would have to establish a trust fund for counties to place the funds until they are spent.

Lanting said legislation also may be necessary to permit the state and the cities to take part in the program.

The speaker said the lawmakers may have to put more money into the governor's $200,000 emergency fund.

Minidoka City sets dump fees

HAILEY — An election for the open zone 5 trustee position in the Blaine County School District will be Monday in Ketchum.

Incumbent Leif Odmark will run unopposed for the three-year post.

Polling, for zone residents only, will be conducted from 12 to 4 p.m. Monday at the Ernest Hemingway grade school.

Boundaries of zone 5 include all of Warm Springs and Sun Valley; the area north of the Bitterroot entry road; all the area north and east of the continuation of Sun Valley Road and Third Street to the intersection of the Union Pacific Railroad tracks and the area east of the track intersection and Third Avenue.

MINIDOKA — The Minidoka City Council approved an ordinance establishing fees for the community dumpground during a brief meeting Thursday night.

In a move aimed at curbing uncontrolled dumping of trash, the council approved fees of $1 for a pickup truck and $3 for larger trucks.

Persons dumping trash must obtain permits from city clerk Madge Roundy, at City Hall before dumping, Mayor Dorothy Courtwright said.

The ordinance establishes legal ground for filing complaints against anyone dumping illegally. City attorney Charles Creason, Rupert, told the council.

The council also accepted the resignation of Councilman

Virgil Carlile, who has moved to Rupert. Minidoka resident Ken Homer was approved as new councilman to succeed Carlile.

The council also discussed a request from a number of Minidoka youths that the city sponsor a baseball team. Creason, asked by Mayor Courtwright what costs were involved, said that most sponsors usually provide shirts carrying the sponsor's name for the boys, and provide baseball caps for each player.

In some cases, the sponsors also supply baseballs or bats where needed, Creason said.

The council agreed to consider sponsoring a team if the costs are not too great. The request will be investigated further.

Two held over TF burglary

TWIN FALLS — Two men have been arrested by Twin Falls Police for the burglary of Century Automotive in Twin Falls early today.

Gary Oliver, owner of the business, called the police when he thought someone was in the building, according to Capt. Tim Qualls, detective division.

Entry was made by the suspects, David Thomas, 21, and Joe Naves, 18, at the rear of the building through a window, Qualls said.

The two men were arrested by police officers while hiding in a warehouse at the rear of the building.

Thomas and Naves will be arraigned on charges of first degree burglary, Qualls said.

Court action looms in fuss of Cassia teachers, board

By A. LEE TREMAINE
Times-News Writer

BURLEY — The Times-News has learned that court action may take place in the dispute between the Cassia County School District and its teachers.

A Burley attorney, who asked not to be quoted by name, said that the school district administration may be "out of line" in its demand that teachers must sign their 1972-73 contracts in the principals' offices.

A deadline of next Wednesday, originally indicated as the deadline for teachers to sign their contracts, has been re-interpreted by the school administration to mean that the principals are to return all contracts, whether signed or unsigned, to the central office by that date.

Teachers apparently will still be able to sign their contracts in the school offices after that date, according to a spokesman for the Cassia County Education Association.

Though teachers were reluctant to discuss Thursday's meeting of the association, it was reported that the association will request the administration to reconsider its demand on contract signing. It was believed that if the administration refuses court action may be sought to enforce the teacher's request.

A few teachers reportedly have signed their contracts in the principals' offices, but most have waited for the association's decision.

Several Cassia County school principals said they did not feel free to discuss the matter publicly. They asked that all news releases come from the school administration.

The Burley attorney also reminded teachers that under the Idaho continuing contract law any teacher with three or more years of service in a school district has a contract assured, whether the administration issues a contract or not.

Idaho law stipulates that teachers will be assured of continuing contracts unless they are canceled under a specified procedure. The contracts can be canceled only for a few stipulated reasons, according to Idaho law.

Bellevue eyes truck purchase

BELLEVUE — Purchase of a used fire truck is being considered by the Bellevue City Council.

Mayor James Pigg and aldermen Joe Bergin, Kenneth Wright and George McKay will go to Malta tonight to inspect the machine. The mayor said complete cost details will be available after that time.

Increased fire protection was cited by the mayor — who was installed during a special City Council meeting Monday — as a top priority along with improvements to the water system and acquisition of additional equipment to make the city more self sufficient.

In other action during Thursday's regular council meeting, a plan to increase water pressure by alderman Mike Ivie was tabled for further study of cost and construction details.

Ivie proposed installation of a series of valves at the water source in Muldoon Canyon to bypass the filter tank and utilize water lost over the spillway. The alderman said the system would be temporary and would cost under $1,000.

Speakers listed for Camas rites

FAIRFIELD — Bishop Olani Beal of the Fairfield LDS Ward will be the special speaker for the baccalaureate services of the 1972 class of Camas County High School.

The event will be held at 8 p.m. May 14 in the high school gymnasium and is open to the public.

Music will be provided by Mrs. William A. Simon and Roxanne Gaskill. Mrs. Phil Brackenbury will play the processional and recessional. Mrs. Bill Bergeson, Pocatello, widow of the late Bill Bergeson, will be the speaker for the commencement exercises at 8 p.m. May 15 in the gymnasium. Mr. Bergeson was originally scheduled to be the speaker.

Becca Barron will give the salutatorian address and Bruce Funk will give the valedictorian address. Olani Beal will present a vocal solo. Mrs. Brackenbury will play the processional and recessional.

The 1972 graduates of Camas County High School include Becca Barron, David Coates, Gary Cox, Bruce Funk, David Garzoli, Mike Gill, Casey Hobbes, Mark Johnson, Bevvy Kevan, Debbie Koonce, Nick Lernman, Met Olson, Shane Sweet, Debbie Weeks and Carl Storey.

The grade school commencement will be held at 8 p.m. May 14.

Mine has high accident rate

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Federal officials said Thursday the Sunshine Mine in Idaho has had considerably higher accidental death and injury rates in recent years than the average for the mining industry.

Reports filed with the Bureau of Mines also showed that Sunshine officials failed to meet a 2-month deadline to correct some safety hazards cited by federal inspectors last November.

Some two dozen miners were killed in a fire at the Sunshine Mine at Kellogg, Idaho, Tuesday and more than 30 others were still missing in the mine tunnels.

The Sunshine Mine recorded one accidental death in each of the past four years for fatality rates ranging from 0.91 to 0.98 for each million man-hours worked. The average for the non-coal mining industry as a whole during those years ranged from 0.31 to 0.34 fatalities per million man hours worked.

For non-fatal lost-time injuries, Sunshine has shown a steadily worse record during the past few years — 69.37 per million man hours in 1967; 78.23 in 1968; 109.41 in 1969 and 136.15 in 1970. The 1971 non-fatal accident statistics are not yet available.

Fairfield girl ISU candidate

POCATELLO — Sunnie Sweet, Fairfield, is one of six candidates for Idaho State University Rodeo Queen who will be named tonight at the Bannock County Fairgrounds.

She is a sophomore majoring in park and recreation management. She graduated from Camas County High School in 1970. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. William E. Sweet.

The queen, who will be crowned at the opening of the rodeo tonight, will receive a trophy, a dozen red roses, western boots, and clothing and a wig donated by area merchants.

Shoshone notes watering hours

SHOSHONE — Shoshone city season irrigation hours will be from 6 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Persons whose houses face the north and west are to irrigate only on odd days of the month, while those whose houses face south and east are to irrigate on even days.

Only public lawns are to be irrigated on the 31st day of the month.

Openings in sprinklers must be not more than one-fourth inch diameter. Water from open hoses is not permitted.

Failure to comply will net a $2 fine and discontinuance of water service until the fine is paid.

Gooding tour

GOODING — The Gooding County Memorial Hospital Auxiliary's home tour will be from 1 to 5 p.m. Saturday.

The homes on the tour are those of Dr. and Mrs. Douglas Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Faulkner, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Gavin, Mr. and Mrs. Oley Boyd, Mr. and Mrs. Cruz Legarreta and Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Toone. There will be a coffee hour following the tour at Mrs. Cliff Toone's.

Shoshone drug store hit as driver blacks out

SHOSHONE — A pickup truck smashed in one wall of the Grosse Drug Store Wednesday morning when the driver blacked out.

Damage to fixtures and contents was estimated at $4,000 by Gilbert Pierson, owner of the firm. The store has remained open, but the damage has interfered with operations.

The driver, Harold R

Holmes, 50, Burley, a contractor for the Idaho Highway Department, was on his way to a meeting at the highway department offices in Shoshone. He apparently blacked out while driving east on South Rail Street.

The truck passed between a light pole and a car parked on Apple Street, then hit the side of the store.

Holmes was taken to St. Benedict's Hospital, Jerome. Shelves and merchandise were pushed from the wall where the front end of the store was pushed in.

Fixtures damaged were in the cosmetics and jewelry department. Damage to merchandise was estimated at $50.

Bellevue hikes rates

By TERRY CAMPBELL
Times-News writer

BELLEVUE — Bellevue water rates will be raised about 70 per cent, effective June 1.

The Bellevue City Council voted unanimously for the boost Thursday night which would increase residential rates from the present $3.50 per month to $6. Commercial rates will be raised a straight 70 per cent a month.

Mayor James Pigg said the additional $600 revenue a month would be used in projects to increase water volume. He said the move was necessitated by low pressure problems and greater loads on the water system created by new housing.

Under the motion by Alderman Duke Martin, new hookup charges were raised proportionately from the current $30 to $50.

The motion also included a provision that elderly residents with a limited income may request exemptions from the increases by applying to watermaster Mitchell Lete. The applications will then be reviewed by the City Council.

Alderman George McKay said he talked to several residents and said they felt the increases were "inevitable." They realize it's a must, if we are going to have any money in the water fund," McKay said.

Alderman Mike Ivie said even with the increases the Bellevue water rates fall below fees charged by other area cities. With the increased building, more money is needed for new pipe and additional help will eventually have to be hired to maintain the water system, he said.

In a second move to raise additional city revenue, the council voted to adopt the Uniform Building Code, building permit fee schedule effective today.

State legislators address Rupert chamber meet on state funding

RUPERT — Idaho State Sen. John Peavey and Rep. Steve Antone spoke about state funding Thursday to the Rupert Chamber of Commerce.

Peavey discussed raising funds for the state budget; funds for education and pollution control, and the federal health and safety act at the luncheon meeting.

"I favor taking the money available and fitting it into the various agencies in reaching the budget," said Peavey. "We should have had the revenue bills sooner in the session. The revenue bills were held until the last of the session and all the revenue bills are started in the house," Peavey said.

Rep. Antone also blamed the long session on the budget. "The annual budget was what was causing the long sessions, for as soon as one budget was approved, that agency started working on requests for next year," said Antone.

The legislators also discussed the additional taxes on cigarettes and gasoline which passed this last session, and the sales tax and double tax on income. Other items discussed were no fault insurance, driver education funding, hospital unemployment insurance and annexing property.

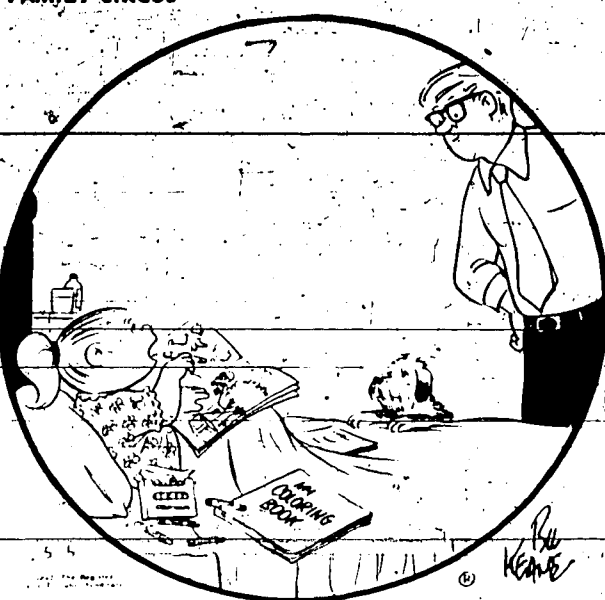

The program was arranged by local attorney Roger Ling. A question and answer period followed.

Pete Ford, chamber president, said that five

Minidoka County residents attended the centennial celebration of the National Parks Tuesday at Craters of the Moon. Gov. Cecil Andrus was the guest speaker there.

Del Hollinger reported the desert road from Arco to Minidoka, over which the group traveled back from Craters of the Moon, has been graded but there are some rocks in the middle. Road work has been done by the Bureau of Land Management.

FORECAST FOR SATURDAY, MAY 6, 1972

CARROLL RIGNER'S HOROSCOPE

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You are under adverse aspects early in the morning, devoid of any changes, but later in the day you find that everything starts working in your favor. Then you can enjoy the company of others, especially with good friends who are in a position to help you attain personal goals that mean so much to you.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Sociability is the keynote now. Showing others your affection for them brings excellent results. Accepting invitations at this time can lead to making interesting, new contacts.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) The morning starts slowly but then all speeds up and you see your way clear to gaining goals where career is concerned. Know what a higher-up expects of you and do your utmost to please.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) A good day to seek new activities that are interesting and worthwhile. Obtain pencils that have the data you are looking for. Avoid the limelight this evening and relax.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) There are bigwigs who can help put obligations behind you quickly now instead of laboring over them. The evening can be a happy time in the company of the one you love.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Instead of toying with the idea of change, be sure you go along with the expertise of an associate and get the best results. Put your pride in your pocket, where it belongs. Be wise.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Carry through with work you could not finish during the work week. Do so enthusiastically and reap the benefits. Take time for healthy exercise to restore your energy. Have fun tonight.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Ideal day for having fun with congenials at mutual enjoyment. Engage in a hobby you enjoy. Don't neglect to handle an important chore at home for mate and increase harmony there.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) An excellent day for fixing things up at home. Be wise and get an early start. The evening is then fine for entertaining and making an excellent impression on others. Be poised.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Don't step out too early for shopping or running errands, since the mid-morning is best and you can also meet interesting people. Don't neglect important correspondence later in day.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Study financial affairs more accurately now and know how to proceed in the future. Be more modern in your dealings. A business expert can give you fine monetary advice.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Anything of a personal nature can be handled accurately now. You are able to gain your fondest desires easily. Attend the social tonight and show your finest attributes.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You need to prepare yourself if you are to let new situations that have cropped up bring you more success. Assisting those who are in trouble is wise and good.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she may appear to be out of the norm early in life. Take this in your stride, since upon reaching a more mature age, your progeny could come up with something new and interesting that he or she could have success in whatever is of the modern era. Give enough leeway for self-expression and discipline is wise for developing true character.

Viennese Finds Paternity Tests

You can't identify the father of an illegitimate child by scientific tests. You can identify who's not the father in some cases, however. Until lately, these have been the known facts. No more, no more. A Viennese physician named Arthur Wolfgang Mayr says his researchers have turned up a couple of new genetic characteristics. He says they disprove fatherhood in 99 out of 100 cases. His findings are expected to affect current legal practice as well as influence travel.

WHAT'S LOVE? The world's first woman's magazine "Godey's Lady's Book" defined it as follows: "An alliance of friendship and lust; if the former predominates, it is passion exalted and refined; but if the latter, gross and sensual." That magazine also ran a "how to" article on the kissing of a girl which began: "It should not be necessary to remove the gloves."

AUSTRALIA What else distinguishes Australia? It's the only continent with more species of venomous than harmless snakes, that's the oddity.

NOBODY YET has explained why most all the medical surveys show women who live in the suburbs get more headaches than women who live in midtown.

IN TURKEY, a citizen convicted of "driving while intoxicated" is routinely taken about 80 miles down the pike and turned loose to hotfoot it home in his sandals.

Riva Ridge heads field of 16 named for Derby

LOUISVILLE, Ky., (UPI)—Riva Ridge, the Kentucky Derby favorite, headed a field of 16 entered Thursday for Saturday's running of America's premier turf classic, but Key to the Mint, one of his major opponents, declined the issue.

Trainer Elliott Bureh, who had been wondering whether to enter Key to the Mint since that colt won the Derby Trial Stakes at Churchill Downs on Tuesday, finally decided to rely solely upon Head of the River in a bid for his first Kentucky Derby victory. Bureh missed with such horses as Sword Dancer, Quadrangle and Arts and Letters, each of whom went on to become a champion.

Jockey Ron Turcott rides Riva Ridge in the 1 1/4 mile race. His mount drew post position No. 9 and was listed at 9 to 5 by the Churchill Downs price maker.

Also entered in the first of the Triple Crown classics were: Hold Your Peace, No Le Haze, Freetex, Sensitive Music, Hassi's Image, Introductory, Brown Bear, Big Spruce, Our Trade Winds, Pacallo, and the entry of Majestic Needle and Napoiso.

Originally, owner Robert Lehmann, who won the 1978 Kentucky Derby with Dust Commander, planned to scratch either Majestic Needle or Napoiso. But now he says he will run both. Nevertheless, they were grouped in the "mutuel field" with Dr. Neale, Our Trade Winds and Big Spruce, the first time an entry ever was included in the "field" in the Kentucky Derby.

Canonero II was a field horse when he scored his surprise victory a year ago. The two men who engineered that upset each were back for a second try, but with different horses.

This time Canonero's trainer, Juan Arias, saddles Hassi's Image, while jockey Gustavo Avila rides Pacallo, who was bred in Kentucky but has done all his racing in Puerto Rico. Heliodoro Gutierrez rides Hassi's Image, both horses were listed at 20-1.

Hold your Peace, with Carlos Marquez riding, was second choice at 3 to 1. No Le Haze was 5 to 1 with Phil Rubbico up and Head of the River listed at 6 to 1 with Mike Hole in the saddle.

If all 16 horses go to the post Saturday at 5:32 p.m. (EDT) for the Kentucky Derby, the

Reds rally in eighth, top Cards

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—Dave Concepcion's two run single and Bobby Tolan's bases loaded triple in the eighth inning Thursday gave the Cincinnati Reds five runs and a 9-5 win over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Concepcion drove in pinch runner Cesar Geronimo, running for Bernie Carbo, who had walked, and Denis Menke, who had singled. The hit gave the win to Clay Carroll, who entered the game in the seventh and struck out Joe Torre with the bases loaded. Carroll now has a 2-1 record.

Concepcion scored along with Pete Rose, who was intentionally walked, and Joe Morgan, hit by a pitch, on Tolan's triple. Tolan was three for four in the game.

Nets tip Squires, gain ABA finals

NORFOLK, Va. (UPI)—Rick Barry hit 27 points to lead the New York Nets over the Virginia Squires 94-88 Thursday night for the Eastern Division championship of the American Basketball Association. Barry killed a Virginia rally with a clutch field goal with 2:44 to play, giving the Nets the lead for good at 88-88.

John Roche and Bill Melchioni added two more free throws, and Barry scored the final two points on foul shots.

Virginia missed everything it tried in the final 3:15, after it had surged back from a seven-point fourth quarter deficit to tie the score at 88-88.

The Virginia rally was spurred by Julius Erving and Ray Scott, who hit two field goals apiece while the Nets could manage only one two-pointer. Erving finished as the game's top scorer with 35 points, but got little scoring support from his teammates.

Doug Moe was the second highest scorer for the Squires with 11.

Barry got help from Roche with 19 points and Billy Paultz with 18.

Paultz also was a key factor on the backboards, pulling down 24 rebounds to lead all players in that department. Erving had 20 rebounds for Virginia.

The game climaxed a bitterly contested seven-game playoff series in which each team won three games on its home court.

The Nets will meet the Indiana Pacers Saturday afternoon in Bloomington, Ind., in the first game of a best of seven series to determine the ABA champion.

The Nets jumped into an early lead in the first quarter, and led 23-21 at the break. The Squires pulled closer in the second quarter, and took a one-point lead three times, but were down 48-44 at the half. The Nets led 75-71 after three periods.

Malloy continues to set Indy pace

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI)—Jim Malloy continued to set the pace Thursday during Indianapolis "500" practice, but 1971 pole-sitter Peter Revson made a speedy debut on the 2 1/2-mile oval.

Malloy of Denver, Colo., Bill Vukovich of Fresno, Calif., and defending two-time "500" winner Al Unser of Albuquerque, N.M., each topped 185 miles per hour today while Unser's brother, Bobby, turned in a 183-plus circuit.

Revson, his first time out, clocked as fast as 179.497 m.p.h. Revson set qualifying records in winning the pole last year and finished second in the race itself. However, his one-lap official standard of 179.354 m.p.h. is likely to be shattered a number of times this year.

Malloy yesterday turned a lap at 185.4, the fastest of the practice session at that point. After a one hour and 54 minute rain delay Thursday, Vukovich was clocked at 185.5. Then Malloy took to the oval and turned a lap at 185.912. Al Unser checked in with a quick lap of 185.338 and Bobby Unser's best was 183.299.

Former "500" winner Mario Andretti had a fast lap of 172-plus and Rudy Ward up at 166.5.

Mel Kenyon of Lebanon, Ind., Mike Mosley of Clermont, Ind., and John Martin of Long Beach, Calif., also made their 1972 debuts at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, but none turned in top times.

John Mahler of Bettendorf, Iowa, passed his refresher test and Walt Walther of West Carrollton, Ohio, passed the 160 m.p.h. phase of his rookie test.

So far, 10 cars have gone above 180 m.p.h. There are 51 racers at the track of which 33 have passed technical inspection. Twenty-four were on the track Thursday, making it the busiest day of practice so far.

N.Y. ends 22-year win drought

NEW YORK (UPI)—Brad Park scored two power play goals in the opening period, the first defenseman ever to accomplish the feat in a playoff game, and assisted on two other goals by Rod Gilbert Thursday night to lift the New York Rangers to their first victory in a Stanley Cup final in 22 years by a 5-2 score over the Boston Bruins.

It was the first success for the Rangers in this best-of-seven set after two losses at Boston and snapped Boston's nine-game winning streak in the playoffs and seven-game winning streak against New York. The last time the Rangers won a game in a Stanley Cup final series was April 20, 1950, against Detroit.

The Rangers, unable to take advantage of seven manpower advantages in their 2-1 loss Tuesday night, capitalized on their first three power play chances in this crucial game for them.

Serpa scores double eagle

TWIN FALLS When is a hole in two almost as good as a hole in one in golf and five times as rare

Answer when a golfer holes out his second shot on a par five hole

That is exactly what Duane Serpa, Twin Falls, did Wednesday on the par five first hole at the Twin Falls Municipal golf course

Playing in a foursome with Porter Ingram, Gary Rowland and Del Rupert, Serpa drew his trusty three wood for his second shot on number one and holed it out.

Course pro, Clyde Thomsen said it was the first double eagle this year

Knicks unwilling to surrender playoffs to L.A.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Dave DeBusschere, the key to the New York Knicks playoff chances, refused to believe Thursday that the Los Angeles Lakers had a lock on the NBA title series.

DeBusschere, still hampered by a pulled muscle in his right side, saw 20 minutes of first half action in Wednesday night's 107-96 loss and sat out the second half to give a healthier player a better chance of helping the team.

The big Knick, recently voted the league's best defensive forward, was heartened by the fact the injury was not aggravated during the game.

"Sure, I felt pain," DeBusschere admitted. "You don't get over this type of injury in 48 hours. But I was relieved that it didn't get any worse and two more days of rest should help."

New York needs all the assistance it can get. The Knicks trail, 2-1, in the series and lost an opportunity to gain the home court advantage by dropping the third game to the Lakers. Another loss Friday night would leave the club in the unenviable position of having to win three consecutive games in the best-of-seven series.

Coach Red Holzman rested his charges Thursday. Action was limited to watching game films and devising strategy to combat the Lakers' running game.

"They're killing us by making the team play their kind of game," Walt Frazier said. "We have to have more patience and work the ball around for the good outside shot. We did it in the first game, but got a little careless with Dave injured and not being able to help out."

Thorpe nabs Houston lead

HOUSTON (UPI) — Chuck Thorpe, the son of a Roxboro, N.C. greenskeeper and one of the few Negroes on the pro tour, parlayed super drives and accurate iron shots into a six-under-par 66 for the first round lead of the $125,000 Houston Open Thursday.

Thorpe, who joined the tour in Los Angeles last January, had a one-stroke lead over Don Bies and Hale Irwin who had five-under 67s on the 6,998-yard, par 36-36-72 Westwood Country Club course. Hometown pro Doug Sanders and unknowns Jim Ferriell and Jack Ewing were next with 33-35-68s.

Thorpe, who started playing golf with a stick and learned how to hit a ball 240 yards with it, missed only two greens and was so deadly with his irons that four of his six birdie putts were of four feet or less.

He did not have a bogey and Thorpe birdied all four of the par-3 holes.

He hit a sand wedge to within four feet of the pin on the 580-yard fifth hole and the 505-yard ninth. He chipped to within eight inches on the 556-yard 13th and to within three inches on the 536-yard 17th.

Thorpe's other two birdies were on a 12-foot putt on No. 7 and a 13-footer on No. 12. Thorpe, 25, had a two-week stint with the Pittsburgh Pirates farm team in Asheville, N.C., in 1967. But he quit after being suspended three days for sneaking off and playing golf.

"It was the best thing that ever happened to me," Thorpe said.

Bies, whose best finish this year is fifth in the Hawaiian Open, sank putts of 35, 30, 15, 10, 7 and 1 foot in his best putting round in three months. He had one bogey, when it took him three from the edge to get down on No. 11.

Irwin, No. 21 in money winning this year, with $37,526, also putted well. He sank a 20-foot birdie putt on No. 18 in one of the final three holes to gain a second place tie.

He had birdied No. 11 with a 15-footer and No. 8 with a 10-footer after sinking six-foot birdie putts on Nos. 5 and 7. That gave him a 33-34 compared to Bies' 35-32.

Sanders, coming back after a month's layoff because of a wrist ailment, made seven birdies for the second straight day. He also had seven birdies in the pro-am where he was low pro with 67.

Sanders, recovered from the tendonitis in his right wrist, made 18-foot birdie putts on eighth and 10th holes, and 12-footers on the seventh and 11th holes to highlight his round.

Ferriell, 30, a second year pro from Florence, Ky., and Ewing, 27, of Bakersfield, Calif., each had four birdies and no bogeys. Ferriell dropped in eight foot birdie putts on the third and fifth holes, a 10 footer on No. 9 and a seven footer on No. 17.

Ewing, a third year pro, made a 25 footer on the third hole an 18-footer on No. 6, a four-footer on No. 7 and a 15 footer on No. 16.

Warburton, Minico stop T.F.

TWIN FALLS — Dennis Warburton limited Twin Falls to three hits and the Minico Spartans scored single runs for a 2-0 victory Thursday afternoon.

The two area teams will play in Twin Falls again Saturday, trading games with Borah and Boise. The doubleheaders will start at 11 a.m.

Warburton, mixing his pitches and speeds well, threw perfect ball until the fifth inning when Twin Falls collected two hits to mount its only threat of the game.

Minico also managed only three hits off two Twin Falls pitchers, pinning the loss on Kevin Nelson.

Mike Anderson shut Minico out through four innings but Warburton lived on a throwing error to open the fourth and went to third on a passed ball. He scored on Fagg's ground out.

In the fifth, Hardman drew a walk and came around when Deelynn Seamons' long drive went for a triple.

Pairings set for district baseball meet

Twin Falls will entertain Dietrich while Burley travels to Minico Tuesday in the opening round of the fourth district baseball playoffs.

If Twin Falls and Minico win, those two will meet at Twin Falls Wednesday afternoon with Dietrich going to Burley. The two losers will play Thursday, probably at Burley, and the finals will be played Friday in a doubleheader if necessary.

At stake is a berth in the state tournament slated for Boise the week after Minico is the defending champion.

Bulls to stay in Chicago

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Chicago Bulls, having rejected a purchase offer from Vancouver millionaire sportsman Peter Graham, are considering "concrete" offers from two groups who would keep the franchise in Chicago, a club official said Thursday.

Pat Williams, the National Basketball Association club's general manager, said the present owners hope to decide on a deal within two weeks and to have details of the sale ready for approval when NBA owners meet June 15 in Greenbrier, W.Va.

Williams said Graham's offer was voted down by the Bulls board in a four-hour meeting Wednesday night. He didn't say why, but presumably it was because of fears that Graham would move the franchise to San Diego, where he owns and operates the Sports Arena.

"It's ludicrous to think the Bulls would move," Williams said at a news conference. "They are as much a part of Chicago as the Wrigley Building. Moving the Bulls would be like taking the Lakers out of Los Angeles or the Knicks out of New York."

Tiger netmen drop Skyline

JEROME — The Jerome Tigers defeated the Skyline Grizzlies 6-4 in a tennis match Thursday afternoon.

Those two teams along with Idaho Falls, Blackfoot, Highland and Pocatello will meet in district finals next Friday. All teams will participate in the state the week after.

Connie Stone and Beth Mobley took girls singles win for Jerome while Roger Clubb and Dennis Newlan and Steve Allison and Tracy Collins won in boys doubles.

Jeanette Mobley and Jeanette Fallon won a girls doubles match and Roy Campbell and Shawna Rogers won the mixed doubles.

Everton, Jenkins take golf meet

TWIN FALLS — Connie Everton and Ruth Jenkins won the low gross prize at 44 Thursday in the Blue Lakes Country Club's women's Scotch-ball tournament.

Veronica Detweiler and H. Buck took the low net at 38, one stroke ahead of Marie Cain and Sharon Ross. M. Fenstermaker and B. Harney had the high gross at 69 and A. Dodds and A. Hove had the high net at 56.

Snake River motocross opens two-day stand on Saturday

TWIN FALLS — Over 300 raising scramble for over 225,000 in the second annual Snake River motocross.

The cyclists will be from 30 European countries and 21 states.

The event, sponsored by Evel Knievel and his affiliates, will go with amateur racing from 9 a.m. Saturday and with the pros from 9 a.m. Sunday through conclusion.

There will be six classifications in the competition, including a minibike race for children, providing they have parental consent.

The highlight could come Sunday when Knievel unveils the sky-cycle he plans to use in hurtling Snake River Canyon next year. It will be a rocket powered Harley Davidson and is officially known as the Olympia Brewery Special A-1 sky-cycle.

All amateur participants in Saturday's program will receive souvenir trophy from the sponsoring brewery.

The weatherman continued to hold out hope for good weather for both days of the races. Last year's opening session was turned into a mud bowl.

District sportsmen meet set

KETCHUM — The spring meeting of the Fourth District Associated Sportsmen's Clubs will be held at 10 a.m. Saturday at the Ketchum Legion Hall.

Commissioner Jack Hemingway and the division supervisors of the Idaho Fish and Game Department should attend the meeting along with sportsmen from Salmon and Challis to the north, Twin Falls to the south and Glenns Ferry to Burley east and west.

The meeting will follow its usual format with the governmental agencies giving their reports on various aspects of wildlife and resources in the morning.

After the luncheon break, the sportsmen will divide into committees to formulate resolutions for the general assembly. The resolutions usually are passed on from 3 to 5 p.m.

Basically access and the encroachment of civilization on habitat and recreational areas are expected to dominate the discussion. However, all aspects of hunting and fishing will be aired before the meeting ends.

Wildlife unit meets

TWIN FALLS — Bureau of Land Management plans for development of recreational sites in Twin Falls County will be heard at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the Idaho Power auditorium.

It will be the last meeting of the season for the Southern Idaho Fish and Game Association. All interested persons are invited.

Autumn's targets on way

TWIN FALLS — Idaho Fish and Game Dept. crews are readying the Gem State's pheasant population for dissemination prior to the pheasant season.

Each year, two fish and game farms prepare 18,000 pheasants for stocking in areas without proper pheasant habitats. Most of the young hens and cocks will go to north and eastern Idaho hunting areas.

In the Lewiston area, more than 75 per cent of the pheasants taken are game farm birds.

The two game farms are located in Jerome and Post Falls.

Game farm hens supply the eggs which are transferred to incubators by fish and game personnel. From there, the hatched birds are taken to indoor nurturing station until they are strong enough to survive outdoors.

Pheasant hens are the first to go, being released at four months of age. The cocks are kept until just prior to the start of pheasant season. The hens go earlier so they may add to the environment while the males are the primary source of the hunter's take.

The ring-necked pheasant is the most popular game bird in the state.

Waterfowl mercury no threat

BOISE — Two fish-eating ducks and no geese collected in Idaho during the 1971-72 waterfowl hunting season exceeded the tolerance level of 5 parts per million of mercury residue.

This is the level in meat for human consumption as recommended by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration, the Idaho Fish and Game Department disclosed today.

Department personnel collected 151 ducks and eight Canada geese from hunters for mercury analysis by the Idaho Department of Health laboratory in Boise, according to Lloyd E. Oldenburg, game research supervisor.

Of these, 130 ducks were surface feeding species, or puddle ducks. None of these samples, representing nine species of ducks, had mercury residue in excess of human tolerance levels as established by the U.S. D. A.

Oldenburg said that two of the 21 diving duck test samples contained mercury residue levels in excess of established levels. These were an American Golden Eye and a merganser, two unpopular sport species.

The department currently is sampling more of these two species in conjunction with a food habit study designed to learn the amount of fish these birds consume.

Stripping spawn

Utility says transplant successful

BOISE — "We've got eggs and fish coming out of our ears!" The speaker? It's Tom Levendofsky, Idaho Fish and Game Dept. superintendent at the Pahsimeroi River steelhead hatchery near Ellis that the agency operates for Idaho Power.

And that's his enthusiastic way of describing the bustling scene this spring at the facility the company built and has maintained since 1969 under its broad conservation program aimed at transferring Hells Canyon-run steelhead and spring chinook salmon to the Salmon River watershed and beefing up its available resource for sportsmen.

He's enthusiastic for good reason. Items:

At last count, with the upstream run still strong, more than 3,800 adult steelhead had returned from the Pacific to the Levendofsky, Idaho Fish and Game Dept. hatchery. That's five times the greatest number of returnees in any previous year.

Levendofsky and his hatchery helpers already had taken more than enough next generation eggs from the adult females to satisfy the minimum specified by the federal power commission in setting standards for the utility's cooperative program with the federal and state fish agencies.

Seven days weekly, steelhead smolts reared at Idaho Power's Niagara Springs hatchery in Hagerman Valley from eggs taken a spring ago were being released from the company's specially-fitted tank truck into the Pahsimeroi to begin still another three-year cycle of migration. Since the juveniles are bigger than in other years, the fish "taxi" will make more than 50 round trips and nearly 24,000 miles to complete the transfer.

This year's outsized egg take by Levendofsky and his crew is good news not only for sportsmen who frequent the main Salmon below where the Pahsimeroi joins it at Ellis, but also for those whose favored fishing holes are above the Pahsimeroi's mouth.

For eggs that are surplus to the Pahsimeroi Niagara Springs phase of the company's artificial incubation efforts—and present indications are they will number several million—will be reared to fingerling size in Idaho Fish and Game Dept. facilities and released in the Salmon's headwaters upstream from the mouth of the Pahsimeroi.

This will enhance the total run of steelhead to the upper reach of the Salmon and thus the value of the fishery to sportsmen.

Wendell Smith, Idaho Power fish biologist and environmental affairs director, shares Levendofsky's enthusiasm over this spring's showing at the Pahsimeroi hatchery.

Calling the record return "remarkable," he said one possible explanation is that this year's "class" is the first consisting entirely of adults from eggs taken at the Pahsimeroi hatchery and reared at Niagara Springs.

Public hearing tonight

TWIN FALLS — A chance for area hunters to discuss next fall's big game seasons opens at 8 p.m. today at the Holiday Inn.

The Idaho Fish and Game Commission will be conducting a public hearing.

All the commissioners as well as department hierarchy will attend the meeting to answer questions and fill in background information where needed.

The meeting is one of several planned across the state as the commission seeks to establish season length and bag limits.

Chinook run may surpass average

WALLA WALLA, Wash. (UPI) — Fisheries biologists are puzzled by a surprisingly large run of chinook salmon headed upstream in the Columbia and Snake rivers toward their spawning grounds.

The biologists had feared this run had been all but wiped out two years ago by excessive quantities of supersaturated nitrogen in the rivers when the young fish moved downstream to the Pacific.

At that time, biologists estimated that 90 per cent of the downstream migrants had been killed when they swam through waters containing excessive amounts of supersaturated nitrogen.

But Ray Oligher, fisheries biologist for the Army Engineers at Walla Walla, said this year's run of spring chinook will be well above average.

By Saturday, the Army Engineers had counted 155,359 chinook moving up the Columbia River past Bonneville Dam. The highest fish count on record for a full run was 173,000 at Bonneville in 1969.

The Chinook run will continue until about May 30.

A single day record was set April 26 when the count at Bonneville Dam totaled 19,241 spring chinook. The previous record was 14,700.

Oligher said nitrogen supersaturation still is a problem and will continue to be a hazard. However, he said the kill estimates of two years ago might have been faulty, or survival of the run in the open sea might have been excellent.

More deer food

EUGENE, Ore. (UPI) — The Willamette National Forest has awarded a contract for three thinning which for the first time is specifically planned to benefit wildlife.

Deer have difficulty finding enough to eat during the winter, and forest officials say that thinning the 300 acres will increase the sunlight reaching the trees and brush so that it will double the food available for deer.

Rechanneled

TAKING A NEW ROUTE, the Big Wood River at the Broadford Road is now going right instead of left due to some rechanneling for road and bridge construction and improvement. The stream bed alteration has raised quite a controversy.

Letter charges laws disobeyed

KELLOGG, Idaho (UPI) — "I do not know whether you are aware...that several mining companies in this state absolutely refuse to abide by the law."

So went a letter to Idaho Gov. Cecil Andrus and which appeared in last Monday's Kellogg, Idaho, Evening News, complaining of lack of enforcement of laws for underground workers in the state. Enclosed with the letter were two abatement orders issued against Lucky Friday Mine of the Hecla Mining Co., one-third owner of the Sunshine Mining Co.

"These are laws that this whole nation is far behind on, laws to protect the safety and health of the working people while on the job and making the large profits for the industries of this country to which they are accustomed."

At mid-day Tuesday a fire broke out in old timbers at Sunshine Mining's No. 10 shaft. Thirty-two men were known dead and 50 others were trapped. The letter was signed by Mark Grubham, a recording secretary for the United Steel Workers Local 5114. It said:

"I do not know whether or not you are aware that now we have more favorable laws for the protection of underground workers in this state, and a more active department for the enforcement of these laws, that several mining companies in this state absolutely refuse to abide by the law, and the abatement orders of the Idaho Inspector of Mines Office."

"To us, the working people, this refusal to comply with these abatement orders is a gross miscarriage of justice, and a total disregard for the law these companies have, makes us wonder who must abide by the laws of this state, everyone, or only the working people."

"Is industry, with its large corporations and powerful political machine, exempt from the laws of this state?"

Disaster training lack told

KELLOGG, Idaho (UPI) — Workers at the nation's largest silver mine were told but not trained in what to do in case of fire, the chief of Sunshine Mine's safety program said Thursday. Bob Launhardt said there were no fire drills and that most employees were not trained in using "self-rescuators" — small tubes designed to plug into pipes supplying compressed air underground.

He said the miners trapped between the 3,100 and 3,700-foot level had been instructed that in case of fire to try and reach an alternate level. However, he said, they would have no way of knowing that smoke engulfed both levels.

Utah firm sends aid

EUREKA, Utah (UPI) — Two crews of underground mine rescue experts were formed here Thursday to help out in the rescue operations at the Sunshine disaster in northern Idaho.

One of the nine-man crews from the Kennecott Copper Corp.'s Tintic Division flew to the disaster site Thursday and another was to arrive today.

"The Sunshine people asked for our help," a Kennecott Tintic official said.

Loss covered

KELLOGG (UPI) — The president of Sunshine Mining Co. said Thursday insurance will cover the firm's financial loss from the fire still burning in the mine.

But he said he does not know what the company will do if it is shut down more than six months.

"We have insurance and I don't know at this time what the cost will be to the company," Irwin P. Underwieser, president and chairman of the board, said in an interview.

Men working mile down first out

KELLOGG, Idaho (UPI) — Miners working nearly a mile beneath the surface at Sunshine mine were the first to escape from the smoky tunnels, according to an engineering expert.

Gen Hyde, chief geological engineer for neighboring Silver Summit Mine, said the ventilation system in Sunshine would carry smoke from the fire area straight to the lowest levels, 5,200 feet below the entrance, alerting the deepest working crews.

Hyde, who also consults for Sunshine, said ventilation currents coming down Sunshine's No. 4 and 5 shafts "would have carried any smoke from the mid-3,000-foot level directly to new work areas at the bottom of the mine."

He said, "those miners immediately headed to the No. 10 hoist and were raised to the 3,100-foot level, coming out through incline shaft and Jewell shaft, the mine's main tunnel. As the smoke was forced through the lower tunnels, many of the miners could have been trapped in dead end mining slopes between the fire area and the lower levels."

Interior Department mine inspectors estimated the fire broke out somewhere near 3,400 feet below the surface.
